Yuley Greet in St. Nick o' Time

By MARIE MONAHAN

THE TIME is of the Pfefferneuse,
To trim the tree; to stuff the goose.
This rhyme on time we now unloose
From all of us to all of youse . . .
Full of Dickens, let's be giddy
Mr. Babbitt, Mr. Mitty,
Mrs. Bridge & sundry matrons,
Culture vultures, Sunday patrons.
Rich Man, Poor Man, Status Seeker,
Danville-ite or Walnut Creeker.
When the type begins to roll,
Better mind the protocol!

GREETINGS, Mayors, here's a wish!
Same to you, Planning Commish.
Peace be with you, Supervisors,
Tunnel traffic-jam despisers.
Tinker, tailor, County Jailer,
Postmen ALL, Poor tardy mailer.
JUDGES, Jury, D.A., Sheriff,
Tax Man who collects the tariff.
Hallelujah! Cheerio!
Lafayette & Alamo.

UNJANGLE nerves & jingle bells,
For sports car buffs & social swells.
For ladies who tie up our presents,
Men who go for fish & pheasants,
People who sell country togs
And vets who tend our cats and dogs.

REST YE, Merry, Maitre d's . . .
Waitresses with buckling knees.
Salesgirls who have tired tootsies,
Salesmen who have floor-worn footsies.

TWINKLE, twinkle, Eastern Star.
W.C.T.U. . . . & D.A.R.
Lions, Moose, Elks & Rotarians.
Teenagers . . . & Octogenarians.
NOEL, Noel & Cheersome cheers,
For Christmas Bureau's volunteers.
Junior Leaguers, Hospital Branches,
All the Nuts on walnut ranches.
Mt. Diablo Therapy,
Pacific Tel, P.G.&E. . .

ON COMET, Cupid, Rapid Transit,
Freeways, spreedways,
All who chance it . . .
Public Notary, take a memo:
Bon Nuit Girl Friday, Steno!
A ditto wish for all the bosses,
Sheriff's Posse & its hosses,
Bowlers, swimmers, tennis pros
As on & on the rhyming goes.
Hail Artists, Writers, Dramateurs . . .
Little Theaters, golf amateurs.
Bankers, brokers, engineer . . .
It won't be long that day is here!
It won't be long. (Before you know it, You'll have a stack of bills to show it).
For stockings full, you all foot the bill.
Orinda, Concord, Pleasant Hill . . .

THE TIME has come, the walrus groanses,
To share the cup, to toast the Joneses . . .
Druggists, principals & teachers,
Doctors, dentists, lawyers, preachers.
Ring a-round & ring a-rosey,
Gals who sell gloves, hats & hosey.
Hotels, motels, laundromats,
Republicans & Democrats,
Pizza parlors, local pubs,
Card-sharp caddies, Country Clubs.

NEWCOMERS, Soroptomist,
Odd Fellows, Optometrist!
Y.M.C.A. . . . Young Women's, too . . .
Another Yule we drool for you.
MAD cheers from Alfred Neuman, then . . .
To food-faddists & those of Zen.

TO AD EXECS who motivate . . .
Greetings, Gate. Same to your mate.
Cooks & caterers, all that ilk,
Dairymen who bring the milk,
Canyon, Rheem, Moraga, so forth—
Our silly dilly wishes go forth.

BUT not before we dilly-dally,
O'er every hill & every valley,
To wish one wish that won't cost money—
For all—A California Christmas SUNNY!

For O'Reillys and O'Brien, it's Hawaiian we are tryin'. Like a Mele Kalikimaka, hoping Kris fills full that socka. Hoping you will have a Happy, HAPPY DAY to (Champion) Cappy. Ditto Yedidia, Rom and Fran, McLaren, Meyer, Stillson (Stan) Miller, Muller, Luthy, Spittler, hope gifts are bigger more than littler.

HOME, Sweet Holm (we do mean Jennie), Harlanders including Penny. Joe Lipovacs, Lee Stuart Darrow. Tidings to you, Felice (Gennaro), Olafsons, Laurensens, Svenssons (Floyd, Beck), Pattersons, Petersons, Newsman Al Reck.

WE'RE getting dizzy. How about you? But enough ain't enuff when you still have a few more hundreds of people you'd like to wish MERRY, like the Joseph P. Sheaffs and the people on Tarry and Alan Winsor, William Koch and Montgomery (Zack and all of the Riesers (Char, Bobbie, Dick, Jack). . . . and Grant Stubblefield and Golliby, Golliver, we surely can't go without wishing OLIVER! (the Ted Rosenthal's first Inc. Tax deduction) and surely, at this rate, there'll be no reduction of names in this column of good Christmas Cheer but to say to you all, close at hand, far or near (as we drop out of sight, in the dead of the night), "Merry Christmas to all and a FRAB-JOUS New Year.

54 Barrels of Litter Collected

Saturday, under the super-der establishment at Moraga vision of Charles Ivy, 25 boys and Bryant Ways and enjoyed from Troop 200 and five "on the house" sundaes, hot-adults started a clean-up of litter in the crossroads business area.

Four 50-gallon barrels of litter were deposited in the parking lot adjacent to Black's. Vasco Giannini, co-owner of Black's, volunteered to handle disposal of the litter.

AFTER CLEANING up the crossroads area, the group started in at the dead-end of Orinda Way and started in through the new shopping area and the Orinda Village area.

In this section, more than four drums of litter were picked up and deposited in a Ned deLaveaga's service area, who had volunteered to take care of this area.

After the cleanup campaign, the boys returned to proprietor Lightner's short or-

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at Truman's Chapel in Oakland for Melvin C. Shaw Sr., 63, who died Wednesday in Orinda. Paul H. Gertmentian will officiate.

Survivors include the widow, Laura, and two sons, Melvin C. Shaw Jr., of Alameda; the mother, Mrs. Marion C. Shaw of Oakland; a sister, Mrs. Mabel Messick of Mantua, New Jersey; and grandchildren, Bradley Melvin and Ellen C. Shaw, and Laura, Larry Jr., Allen and Neal Haight.

BEARDED VISITOR AT A CUB SCOUT MEET

Junior Choir's 'Joyful Noise'

So far as the 55 members of the Junior Choir of the Orinda Community Church are concerned, one of the nicest presents Santa is giving them this year is a half-hour.

Sunday, several hundred thousand Northern Californians will understand why. For this is not just any old half-hour.

It's 30 minutes of prime viewing and listening time—1 to 1:30 p.m.—on the nation's top independent television station, KTVU. And it is to be given over completely to "Music for Christmas," a varied array of songs from around the world—all sung by the girls who comprise the Junior Choir.

THIS IS just part of the tide of recognition sweeping in upon the young Contra Costa musicians, now in their fourth year under the expert leadership of Mrs. Donald Hartsell of 1233 Nuala Street, Concord.

October 1, they sang in the great United Crusade Kickoff in Oakland—the nation's largest—and they were televised for a showing in Oakland's Sister City, Fukuoka, Japan.

They've found themselves suddenly in demand for appearances in programs of various sorts throughout this area. But Mrs. Hartsell steers a calm course for the girls. Their principal raison d'être is still the service of their church. And that's what they are going to concentrate on after their KTVU concert.

THE EXCITEMENT all began just a year ago, when the youngsters donned their handsome blue-green robes and sang a Christmas program in Children's Fairland, Oakland. This was their first production outside the church, and they "came through" as they've been proving to their director ever since that they can do.

The other appearances have followed in logical but nonetheless exhilarating sequence. Certainly, though, nothing in their experience has equalled the thrill of preparing more than 20 sons for the huge air audience on this Sunday afternoon.

Some of the numbers will be unaccompanied, some in two or three parts—but ALL will be memorized. And that's a little rough, because the date wasn't even made till just before Thanksgiving.

MRS. HARTSELL isn't worried, though. The whole progression fits into a readily discernible pattern of development for the kids, both individually and as a group.

"It has been gratifying to see their sense of responsibility grow," she said. "We have never turned away a youngster who wants to sing, and they reciprocate by doing their very best for the choir."

For girls from 9 to 13 years of age, the choristers are surprisingly capable in part-singing. In fact, the alto and second soprano sections make other children's choir leaders sigh pretty enviously.

Mrs. Hartsell modestly bypasses her own contributions to their success in order to attribute it to the fact that approximately two-thirds of them are studying at least one instrument. And she encourages and develops their splendid sense of ensemble by urging all of them to listen carefully for other parts—to make the chords fit.

"OUR BASIC aim," she commented, "is to give the children an appreciation and understanding of fine music and the satisfaction that comes from doing it well. In long range terms, we hope to help them fulfill their potential as good adult choral singers."

It may be obvious from the foregoing that this director does not work alone. She's responsible only for the youth choirs in the Orinda church. Her husband is minister of music there, supervising the entire program.

The Hartsells came here rather circuitously from Seattle, where she had graduated from the University of Washington. They both taught in the Seattle public schools for two years, until they moved to New York City, where Mr. Hartsell pursued his graduate studies at Columbia. Then they swung back briefly to Longview, Washington, and thence to the Bay Area.

MRS. HARTSELL plays and teaches piano privately now. She studies voice with the well known teacher and singer, Marge Allen, in Los Altos.

Her church music fills what little extra time there may be. For the main project in her life is three lively daughters—Nancy, 10; Belinda, 8; and Dana, 7. All of the girls already show musical aptitude, and Nancy will be singing in the Junior Choir on KTVU. Belinda is a member of the younger Carol Choir.

No story of children's choirs would ever be complete without tribute to the mothers. In this case, they've played a particularly significant role. The singers' attractive concert appearance is the result of initiative, creativity, and hard work by an indefatigable crew of choir mothers.

Mrs. Robert Moe, of 1 Tappan Lane, Orinda, made the pattern for the robes and organized the work crew. Everybody sewed like mad

Party Heralds Yule Season

St. Nicholas himself was on hand last Friday evening (Dec. 6) to help Cubs of Orinda Pack 225, and their families, celebrate the Yule season.

That merry old gentleman dispensed good cheer, coached the youngsters in singing familiar carols, then rewarded their efforts with big candy canes.

DURING THE special Christmas party, emceed by Bill Black, the boys from each den decorated an evergreen tree with original and attractive hand-made ornaments. The tree, along with a gift from each Cub, is being presented to a charitable organization through the Walnut Creek Association Office.

Dr. Alex Gottschalk, with his guitar, led the group in the singing of traditional carols.

Chairmen of the program were Mr. and Mrs. William Hoskins.

Bear — Jim Gould, Kirk Hughes, Bill Jacob, Greg Nelson, Mickey Rich, Ross Black, Mark Ruppenthal and John Erikson.

Bear Gold Arrows — Mark Amberg, Bill Jacob, Craig Maynard, and Mickey Rich. Lion—Bruce Carter and Steven Dickey.

LION GOLD ARROW—Donald Jenks. Denner stripes—Sean Moore, Steve Bennett, and Ross Black. Bobcats new to the Pack in November are Joe Walsh, Brad Weeks, and Allen Spinola.

McCosker Thanks Campaign Workers

David McCosker, recently elected to represent district on the Orinda Association board of directors, issued a statement of appreciation this week to the people of Orinda and the association.

LITTLE SISTER GETS IN ACT

CUBMASTER Bill Henning and Awards Chairman Jim Mitchell presented the boys with Good Turn patches for helping with the past polio campaign. A Round-Up banner, earned by the Pack for membership achievement, was displayed.

Awards in rank for November and December were presented to the following boys:

"What Is Christmas?"

Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

WHAT'S DOING

One of today's most familiar Christmas sights came into being for a very good reason.

Many years ago, a child upset a candle on the Christmas tree of Ralph E. Morris, a telephone man in Boston, Mass. Fortunately, Morris was able to smother the flame and save the child from injury. But he decided right then that candles had to go.

Next day, he bought a handful of switchboard-type lamps. Then, working evenings at home, Morris soldered the little lights to a pair of wires. The result: the first electric lights for a Christmas tree—an idea that made holidays safer for everyone.

When you call friends, give them plenty of time to answer. They may be quite a ways from the telephone. So it's a good idea to let it ring at least ten times.

Let's say you're talking on the telephone and you have to interrupt your call for a moment.

Did you know that there's a built-in spot on your telephone that'll hold the receiver? Just place it across the back of your table-model phone (as shown at the right). If you have a wall phone, you'll find that the receiver can be hung on either side of the phone by hooking it over a built-in ridge at the top.

You can save steps while Christmas shopping—if you check the Yellow Pages before you leave home.

And now, all of us at Pacific Telephone want to wish you and yours in the Orinda area the best of this holiday season. We hope that the coming year will be a happy one for you in every way. We've enjoyed serving you during the past year. And, to show our appreciation for the privilege, we'll be working even harder to bring you the best possible service throughout the year.

Sign Fix Next Year?

Action on a sign control ordinance for business districts in the county, in work since August 27, was again put off by the County Board of Supervisors yesterday. The date for the continued hearing was set at 10 a.m., December 31.

The ordinance would prohibit the use of flashing, rotating or animated signs and would limit heights to 25 feet in all business zones.

Maximum sign sizes would be limited to 40 square feet in retail business zones and 80 square feet in general commercial zones. Variances from these restriction could be obtained through land use permits.

A LARGE NUMBER of civic organizations backing the ordinance were heard by the supervisors. Representatives included Theron Nelson, Lafayette Improvement Association; Clark Wallace, Contra Costa Board of Realtors; Allan Fuller, president of the Home Builders; Dan Close and Dr. T. J. Ahern, San Ramon Valley Chamber of Commerce; Jerb Siemer, Orinda Association Planning Commission; Stanford White, Lafayette Design Project; Robert Amber, Valley Community Club, Moraga; Keith Harris, San Ramon Improvement Association; and Mrs. J. P. Van Overveen, California Women's Clubs.

YFC Gives Hootenanny

Youth For Christ will present a special Christmas production featuring Alan Davis and the Teen Chorale Saturday evening at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center on Civic Drive.

The Hootenanny will begin with Christmas carols and special talent at 7:21 p.m. and is open to the public.

Alan Davis has traveled over 100,000 miles into 24 countries of the world including visits to Moscow, Warsaw and East Berlin in the Communist bloc. He spoke to American high schools in Germany and France and was featured in the "late night special" in London which has gained national prominence and international recognition for their work with delinquent teenagers in Great Britain.

A recording artist, Davis is a baritone soloist and trombonist. He uses a sound track background for accompaniment in high school assemblies and clubs to present a live version of his record album.

New Head For Rapid Transit

In an election held this week, the Bay Area Rapid Transit District Board of Directors unanimously re-elected Adrien J. Falk of San Francisco to a fifth term as President of the organization.

Arnold C. Anderson of Alameda County was also unanimously named vice-president to succeed the late Marvin A. Joseph of Richmond.

Falk, a long-time civic leader and former president of S&W Fine Foods, Inc., was appointed to the Board by the San Francisco County Supervisors at the time of the District's creation in 1957.

He is a former president of both the California State Chamber of Commerce and the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Anderson, also a member of the Board since 1957, has previously served as director of the Eden Township Hospital Board, and the Southern Alameda County Real Estate Board, as well as trustee of the Castro Valley School District.

Enrollment Ease Seen For Acalanes District

"High school enrollment growth in the Acalanes Union High School District will slow down a bit in the immediate future and then start rising again," Superintendent Neil M. Parsons reported to the Acalanes District board this week in analyzing a district survey of enrollment trends.

The survey shows a projected gain of 250 students per year in 1964-65, 200 in 1965-66, 300 in 1966-67, and back up to 400 by 1967-68. Current high school enrollment in the district's five schools is 5,642.

Parsons stated that enrollment projections for secondary schools in the area is partly based on a flattening-out growth trend in the immediate future in the elementary districts of the Acalanes area.

IN A PROGRESS REPORT on building construction at the high schools, the superintendent observed that "everything is as near completion as it should be for construction set for this school year."

Trustees heard a report from the school county office would reserve a television channel in Contra Costa for educational purposes. The board approved a motion, expressing "interest" in reserving the channel and encouraged county board of supervisors consideration of the project.

Parsons stated that "if and when such an educational television channel were feasible for use by secondary schools, the cost to the district is pre-

NELSON REPORTED that out of 351 returns of a questionnaire sent out by the Lafayette Improvement Association, better than 92 per cent favored a county ordinance regulating the size, location, appearance, height and lighting of signs in their area.

The general plea of all proponents was to end the present chaotic conditions of signs and to control the "jungle" the sign industry has made of uncontrolled areas.

Opponents were insistent that they favored sign control, asking for a comprehensive ordinance instead of the "interim" measure before the board. Speaking for them was Bill Moore, representing the California Electric Sign Association, and Ray Adams, who spoke for the outdoor advertising industries in the county.

Beep! Beep! Moraga's Santa Is On the Way

Santa Claus will ride through Moraga's streets in traditional fashion Sunday starting at 9:30 a.m. "Yo ho ho" says the kindly old chap as he gives gifts to all of Moraga's small fry.

This tradition was started and continues under the supervision of the Moraga Fire Department, headed by Chief Al Baits.

Baits announces that a rain date for the man at the reins will be Monday.

Leonard Completes Basic Training

Ron Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Leonard of Lafayette, recently completed basic training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

The nine-week training included naval orientation, history and organization, seamanship, ordnance and gunnery, military drill, physical fitness, first aid and survival.

dicted by experts to run around fifty cents per pupil." He reported that utilization of television by secondary schools presents more problems in scheduling and programming than it does for elementary schools. "We don't know what the future may hold as far as secondary schools and television is concerned. It may well be that television will be valuable. We should reserve a channel for education in Contra Costa."

BOARD MEMBER Ralph Hall suggested that the high school superintendent arrange a meeting of elementary and secondary school trustees within the Acalanes District and is elementary districts to confer on common problems, excluding unification. Hall noted that meetings of governing boards in past years had been beneficial and interesting.

Parsons stated that staff articulation between districts is already a regular procedure.

In other action, trustees: Approved granting of an easement to the county for installation of drainage pipe adjacent to Acalanes High School on Stanley Blvd.

Approved continuation of an agreement with the University of California for student practice teachers. Seven teacher trainees are currently working with the district.

Sanctioned a 178 teaching day calendar for the 1964-65 school year.

Cancer Can Disregard Statistics

The American Cancer Society's continuing drive to warn teenagers and the general public of the health hazards of cigarette smoking was recently compared to year-round safety programs designed to prevent traffic accidents.

The comparison was made by Dr. George Weston of Walnut Creek, vice-president of the cancer society's Contra Costa County Branch.

"Some smokers shrug their shoulders and say, 'It won't affect me,' because they figure that the odds of not getting lung cancer may be much greater than the odds of getting it."

"BY THE SAME TOKEN," continued Weston, "one could say, 'Traffic accidents in the United States average out to only one death of every 20,000,000 miles traveled, and since I don't go that far I have nothing to worry about.'"

"Statistics of this kind are tragically misleading, because traffic accidents and cancer of the lung each account for approximately 40,000 deaths a year—most of which are preventable."

"Traffic safety programs are carried out for the identical objective of saving human life. For 80,000 men, women and children in this nation, failure to heed either kind of warning can mean the difference between living and dying in 1964," Dr. Weston pointed out.

Doyle reported that the safety council had adopted the following set of guidelines for use in conducting a public education program on drinking and driving.

1. The old concept of "drunk" often does not apply to the problem of driving while under the influence of alcohol. An individual's ability to drive safely usually is impaired long before he displays symptoms of gross intoxication. The average social drinker is the greatest problem, primarily because he believes he is not the problem.

2. IT IS DANGEROUS to believe that coffee will offset the effects of alcohol. Only time can eliminate alcohol from the blood stream. It takes about three hours to eliminate one ounce of pure alcohol (roughly two cocktails) from the body.

3. Most adult Americans drink to some extent. Most drive a motor vehicle. The simple — and only — "solution" to the problem of drinking and driving is a separation of the two acts. When people go out to drink they should make special transportation arrangements so as not to drive an automobile after they have been drinking.

4. Alcohol first affects the highest levels of brain function. Loss of judgement occurs before the obvious symptoms of intoxication. Thus, the person who is drinking is the one least able to determine if he is fit to drive.

5. Enforcement can provide only a fraction of any "solution" to a social problem of this magnitude. Each driver must accept an individual—perhaps moral—responsibility to drive safely.

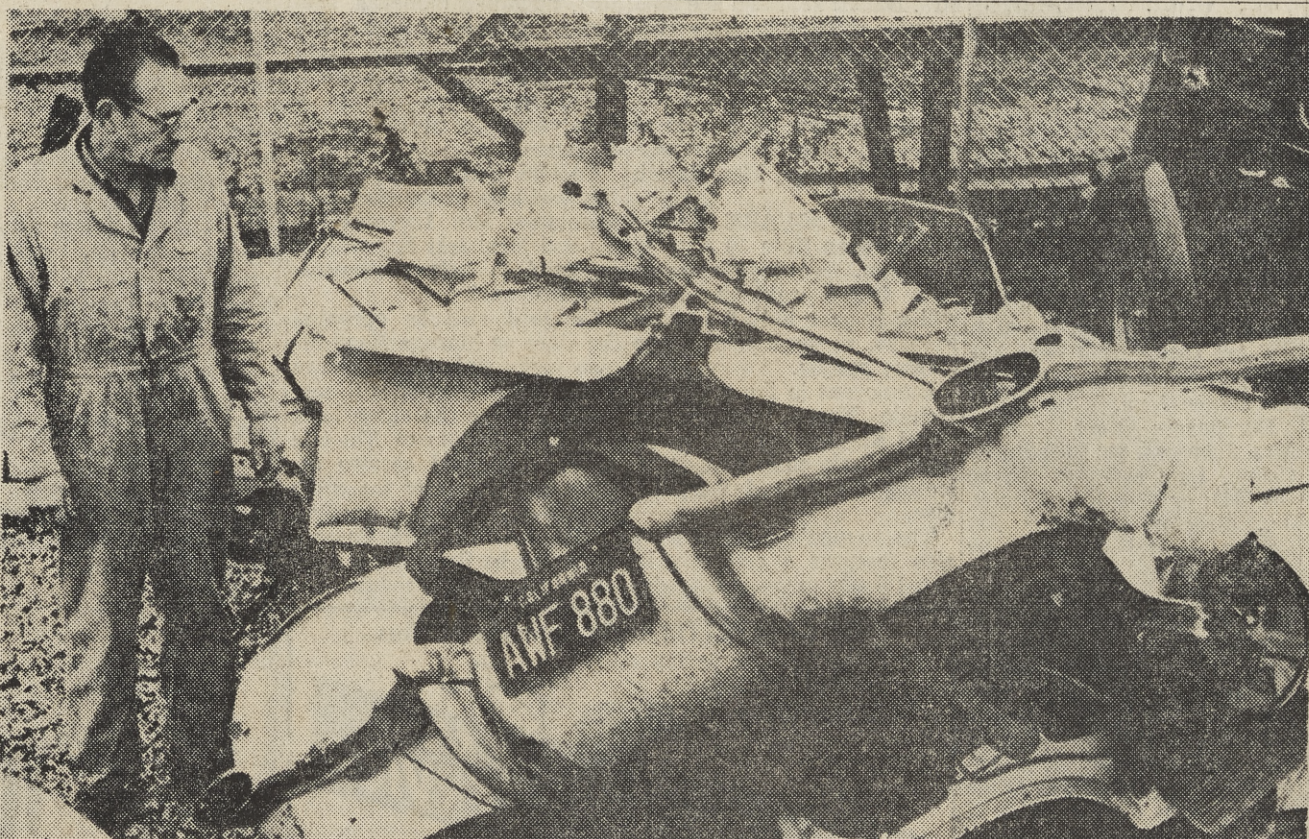

DOYLE MADE a special plea to hosts of house parties, asking them to discourage their drinking guests from driving home.

"In most gatherings," he said, "there are drivers who do not drink. Their services should be utilized to provide a safe way home for those drivers who do drink. If this isn't possible, a cab should be called, or the drinkers should ride a bus home. Even if a drinking driver does not become involved in an accident there's always the possibility that he will be picked up for driving while under the influence of alcohol, and this is embarrassing to him and to his family."

Doyle concluded: "It appears that drinking and driving has almost become socially acceptable. Until we consider such behavior to be socially irresponsible we won't make any real inroads into the problem which accounts for more deaths and crippling injuries than any other health problem in Contra Costa County."

Cancel Clinic

Because of the Christmas holidays, the Health Department immunization clinic scheduled for December 25th in Walnut Creek has been cancelled. The next clinic will be held on Wednesday, January 22nd.

NOT MUCH LEFT — Bobe Myhre, owner of Tri-City Motors in Lafayette examines the remains of a sports car which was demolished when the driver, James F. Neylan, 24, Moraga, lost control and smashed into a utility pole near Orinda. Neylan, who was delivering Christmas mail Saturday when the accident happened, was not seriously hurt. The late model Corvette was demolished.

Motel Complex To Go At Buchanan Field

A deluxe garden-type motel complex will be constructed at Buchanan Field Airport, Tuesday the Board of Supervisors approved a lease with Dr. Samuel Bernstein for this project.

According to County Airport Chairman Mel Nielsen, the motel complex will consist of a restaurant, banquet room, cocktail lounge, swimming pool, and a minimum of fifty motel units.

UNDER THE terms of the lease, the county will be guaranteed an annual rental of $12,000 per year for the 8.84 acre site. Under an escalator clause of the fifty year lease, the minimum rental will be re-evaluated at ten-year intervals. However Nielsen believes the alternative percentage provisions of the lease will return the county at least double the guaranteed minimum.

Nielsen further stated, "This million-dollar-plus motel complex will go a long way toward realizing our goal of developing the finest executive type airport in California. By executive airport, we mean the kind of airport that is so important to businessmen and industrialists today when they are looking for a place to invest their money, or expand their present facilities.

THE COMPLETION of the motel complex should accomplish our other goal — operating the airport in the black. This will put us in select company in California, where nearly all airports lose far more money than Buchanan Field.

A lot of our people don't realize it but our program to develop a self-supporting airport has attracted attention all over the State, and many inquiries have been made concerning our methods. Even such objective observers as the California and Federal Aviation Boards have referred some of the people to us."

Nielsen also stated that the proposed motel would aid in the development of Central Contra Costa County as a convention and cultural center.

"WITH THE completion of the motel, we should be able to handle 500-man conventions in the central county. If we are successful in our negotiations to obtain a National Guard Armory at the airport, we will have the facility for the general assembly or grand ball, or whatever, for one thousand-man conventions.

With our climate and recreational facilities, all that has held the central county back as a red-hot convention center, has been the lack of lodging facilities.

The developers have a total of fifteen months to start construction of the facilities, and an additional eight months to complete them, but Dr. Bernstein stated it was to the advantage of him and his associates to be in operation as soon as possible.

County Refuses To Set Up Water Service Area

Emphasizing the fact that the county does not want to go into the water business and bowing to the expressed opinions of residents in the area, the County Board of Supervisors Thursday decided unanimously not to form a water service area for the south county district.

The action in effect places the question of water for the area up to the East Bay Municipal Utility District and the Valley Community Services District, which is now serving the south county.

It also closed the door on the possibility of the county's obtaining 20,000 acre feet of water from the State through a $3 million contract. The final date for acceptance of this contract is December 31.

The action was taken in spite of the fact that differences between EBMUD and VCSB have not been completely resolved. However, Supervisor Mel Nielsen pointed out that he understood that verbal agreements had been reached and that "I, for one, trust them."

The motion to reject the formation of the service area was made by Nielsen and seconded by Supervisor Tom Coll. While the vote was unanimous, Supervisor Joseph Silva commented before voting that he couldn't help commenting, relative to turning down the state contract, "Here's water waiting for you and you turn it down. Some day you're going to regret it."

Bond Sales Go Up In County

Contra Costa County residents supported the U.S. Savings Bonds program during November by purchasing $487,959 worth of Series E and Series H Savings Bonds, according to Volunteer County Bond Chairman E. M. Downer, Jr.

Total county sales for 1963 were $487,959 indicating a steady upswing both locally and nationally in Savings Bonds sales during the year, creating a record holding of Bonds throughout the nation of more than $46 billion, 974 million.

Northern California sales for November, following the upward trend started last January, with $9,298,113. Total 1963 sales in the state amounted to $127,210,347, an increase of more than $8 million over the same period last year.

Engle Supports Cultural Center

WASHINGTON, D. C. Legislation to speed construction of the National Cultural Center in Washington, D.C., renaming it the John Fitzgerald Kennedy Memorial Center, is being co-sponsored by Senator Clair Engle.

Renaming the center in honor of the late Chief Executive, Senator Engle feels, would be a deserving tribute to former President Kennedy whose interest in and support for the cultural center were unflagging.

Transit Tax Cost Under Estimate

The tax cost of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District system is going to be considerably less than the amount approved by the voters of the District at the 1962 election, it was pointed out this week by Thomas J. Mellon and A. Hubbard Moffitt, Jr., co-chairmen of the Committee for Rapid Transit Now.

Following the recent sale of $50 million worth of general obligation bonds, they estimated the ultimate saving in interest costs alone would be nearly $119 million.

"They have come in with an interest rate of 3.37 per cent, as against the 4 per cent on which the campaign was based," said Mellon and Moffitt. "This represents a saving, for this block of bonds alone, of more than $8 million."

"Controlled fluoridation of the water supply is a well-established procedure in water plants throughout the country."

This was pointed out by Dr. Zachary M. Stadt, D.M.D., assistant health officer and director of the Division of Dental Health, Contra Costa County, last night.

He was appearing as the "pro" speaker at the fourth and last of a series of monthly public meetings scheduled by the Citizens' Advisory Committee of the Treated Water Division, Contra Costa County Water District.

SUBJECT OF the meeting, which was held in the multi-use room of College Park High School, Pleasant Hill, was the technical aspects of a fluoridation program.

"Actually there is nothing new to the mechanical handling of the fluorine in the plant. After all, we've been adding chlorine, for instance, to the water supply for years," he said.

Dr. Stadt stressed the fact that under controlled fluoridation the fluorine is not added at the discretion of the individual district but must be added in quantities that meet all the requirements of the State Health Department.

"IN FACT," he said, "before any fluorine is added, the district must apply to the state and explain just what it is planning to do. Permission is not granted until the program meets the state standards."

He also brought out the fact that water supplies in this area already have some amounts of fluorine in them. A survey of the results of tests on samples taken over the past six months by the Health Department in various communities reveals natural fluorine in all of them.

FOR INSTANCE water at Alamo, Danville and Orinda contain 0.1 parts of fluoride per million parts of water; at Lafayette and Walnut Creek, 0.05; and at Concord, Pittsburg and Martinez, 0.1. An adequate amount for protection of the teeth is set at 1.0.

Fluoridation of the water supply is accepted and encouraged by the State Board of Health, Dr. Stadt emphasized.

Appearing as opposition speakers were Charles Klint, chairman, Fresno State Water Committee, Fresno, and Walter Miller, Sunnyvale. Both are connected with the Pure Water Association of America, Inc., California Committee, the former as executive director and the latter as research secretary.

Encore On New Year's

The San Francisco Actor's Workshop's production of "The Caretaker" open in The Encore Theater New Years Eve for a limited run on Friday through Sunday evenings.

In Marjorie's Theater, production of "The Caucasian Chalk Circle" continues Wednesdays through Sundays nightly, with Saturday matinees, until January 4. Curtain time is 8 p.m. on week nights and Sundays, 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 2:30 p.m. at Saturday matinees.

"The Caucasian Chalk Circle" will also be presented at a special New Years Eve performance. Curtain times for the productions in Marjorie and Encore Theaters will be 8 p.m.

College Trustees Sell Land Parcel

A 2.11 acre parcel of land at Contra Costa College, San Pablo, was sold by the trustees of the Contra Costa Junior College District recently ding sent the price soaring from $8,500 to $13,000.

High bidder was the Wunderlich Development Company of Omaha, Neb., parent firm of Whitecliff Knolls, whose subdivision No. 3 is now being built on the northern perimeter of the campus.

The land, declared surplus by the college district, WUNDERLICH started with an $8,500 written bid, with Mack Chesney, San Pablo contractor, offering $7,000. The price then started up as the two made a succession of oral bids.

Last October Chesney offered $8,000 for the land and Wunderlich $6,150, but new bids were called for because of a legal question which arose over ingress and egress by way of a campus access road.

Polling Locations

Registration deputies for Contra Costa County's District 2 were announced this week in a report from County Supervisor Mel Nielsen.

Names and addresses of the deputies were listed. Nielsen said anyone wishing to work on election boards or anyone who would offer their home for a polling place should contact his office, 284-4733.

February 13, 1964 is the deadline for registering for municipal elections in the district. Nielsen urged qualified voters to register "as early as possible."

Primary elections are held the first Tuesday in June and the general election is the first Tuesday in November.

There are approximately 47,000 eligible voters in District 2, Nielsen said.

Records show there were 172,381 registered voters in the county on February 1, 1963. This figure dropped from a previous high of approximately 206,000 registered voters after many persons neglected to re-register, Nielsen said.

The list of registration deputies included:

MORAGA — Jean F. Bates, 7 Thune Avenue; Mrs. Florence P. Dickson, 10 Camelot Drive; Mildred K. Gunn, 115 Donald Drive; Mrs. Helene Hetfield, Box 57, Moraga; Darlene D. Lowe, 7 Buckingham Drive; Eastern Contra Costa County Fire Protection District, 331 Rheem Boulevard; Helen O'Connor, 1391 Rimer Drive; Vera V. Wearner, 728 Moraga Road; Barbara T. Workinger, 19 Hetfield Place.

CANYON — Mildred E. Knipe, Box 108, Pinehurst Road.

ORINDA — June T. Dorsey, 11 La Noria Road; Jane Ellen Keating, 5 Albo Court; Helen M. McCutcheon, 173 Ivy Drive; Harold V. Manor, 7 Charles Hill Road; Orinda Fire Station No. 1, Avenida Del Orinda; Orinda Fire Station No. 2, Moraga Highway and Orchard Road; Orinda Fire Station No. 3, Via

Decision Looms On Car Wash Legal Action

A suit filed by a Lafayette real estate operator in an attempt to compel the board of supervisors and the county building inspector to grant him a permit to build a car wash facility near Acalanes High School was heard in court Tuesday and both sides are awaiting a judge's decision.

Judge Thomas Coakley of Mariposa County presided at Tuesday's session after being assigned to the case by the state judicial council.

THE SUIT was first filed March 22 by Anthony G. Lagiss of Lafayette. The action was dismissed after Judge Jugh H. Donovan, since retired, ruled that Lagiss had failed to exhaust administrative remedies, meaning Lagiss had not appealed to the board of supervisors before filing a legal action.

Lagiss told The Sun both sides presented their arguments Tuesday in Contra Costa County Superior Court and Judge Coakley took the suit under summation.

"ALL WE can do now is wait for a decision," Lagiss said.

Lagiss contends he is entitled to a permit by the neighborhood business district zoning ordinance.

Lagiss and his attorney argued that a service station is allowed to wash cars and therefore a car wash business automatically comes under the ordinance.

SINCE Judge Donovan's ruling in March, Lagiss has progressed through appeals to the board of supervisors, the county planning commission and the board of adjustment.

The Contra Costa County District Attorney represented the board of supervisors and Rudolph Krantz, county building inspector, in the courtroom Tuesday.

Lagiss said he expects a decision from Judge Coakley "soon."

Art Center Prints Now On Display

The Valley Art Center's modern Japanese print show, opened at a preview last Sunday will be on display at the Kaiser Center in Oakland through January 14, according to Mrs. Richard Johnston, president.

Featured are works of some of the outstanding graphic artists of Japan who exhibit at Yoseido Gallery in Tokyo.

Mrs. Johnston said prints are for sale through the Valley Art Center and proceeds will go toward the permanent art center fund.

Purchasers may contact Mrs. Johnston, 840 Broadmoor Court, Lafayette, or phone 284-4286; or Mrs. Frank Buck, Jr., director of Valley Art Center Rental Gallery, by calling 934-4100.

The Valley Art Center president also announced that the organization's headquarters have been moved from the location at 978 Hough Avenue, Lafayette, and will reopen after the first of the year at 3441 Mt. Diablo Blvd., in Lafayette. The move was made necessary by the expiration of the lease at the Fiesta Square location.

HOLIDAY GREETINGS

FELIN NOCHE BUENA, TOO—In a flurry of traditions and tissue for the Robert Schmidt family Don, 12; Sunny Schmidt with Louise, aged 2; Mary 14; Bill, 15; Bob Schmidt; Roberta, 5; and Peter, 11, seated.

A Frohliche Weinachten

with traditional custom is the holiday pleasure of many families like Robert Schmidt of Fieldbrook Drive. This year their Orinda home will welcome family members for the annual gathering much in the same manner their paternal grandmother did for years with servings of a hot wine punch made from a German recipe 75 years old, a late evening supper and the attendance of midnight mass together.

A first-time hostess for the uncles and in-laws and cousins and aunts, Mrs. Schmidt (she was born in Bogota, Colombia) will break with the usual prandial preparations and serve something her own specialty and style—a complete Mexican dinner. The little ones will hover and play around the creche scene in the living room ("ours is an inexpensive one so the children can pick up the figures") and the family gifts will be opened, as is the old country custom on Christmas Eve, before the late meal and the departure for church to Santa Maria.

PAST weeks have found the busy youngsters pasting and painting, sewing and hammering, like a bunch of Santa's helpers. "The children make their own presents for family adults as well as for one another," according to mother Sunny whose name suits her smiling disposition. "We've also been learning the carols in Spanish for Sunday night's caroling party around the new Moraga neighborhood at Diablo Estates."

A FROHLICHE Weinachten is the customary German greeting of Robert Schmidt's forebears. He's a native Oaklander who met his South American wife when both attended the University of California where he graduated in business administration and she studied Spanish Literature for her degree.

A sales executive for Precision Instruments in Palo Alto (he's a commuter who rises at 5:30 a.m.), Bob works with tape recorders used on space satellites. But that starry-eyed look to him lately has a lot more to do with earthly things. His family and the good spirit and joy that the season generates. Feliz Noche Buena!

Three More Stores Open In Lafayette Plaza Unit

Three more stores opened recently in Lafayette's Plaza Center as contractors for the project continue working toward the completion of the new, ultra-modern shopping center.

Mrs. Nan Barich opened a Lafayette branch to Village Square Casuals, a women's clothing store featuring items for young matrons.

VISITORS To the store walk in on a golden-colored wall-to-wall carpet and a variety of clothing is immediately visible. Jewelry to complete the clothing ensembles is also available.

Well-known in the area, Mrs. Barich has owned and operated the Village Square Casuals store in Orinda for the past two and one-half years. She said she has many friends and customers in the area.

ASKED ABOUT her family, Mrs. Barich said her husband is an accounting executive with a San Francisco firm. The third member of the immediate family is Edward Barich Jr., five and one-half years old.

"Clothes for casual living," is the motto for the store, Mrs. Barich said and she said the new store will carry varied styles of dresses, knit suits, slacks, tailored blouses, etc.

"The Villager" brand of clothes is one of the most popular in the store, Mrs. Barich noted.

VILLAGE SQUARE Casuals will be open from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. five days a week.

Mrs. Barich said the store will stay open until 9 p.m. on Fridays, at least through the holiday season.

Employees in the store will include Nancy Shoults and Carol Knight who will be on hand to help customers in selecting the desired merchandise.

The women's clothing store also features a centrally located 4-way mirror suspended from the ceiling which is designed to give customers "an all around view of the items which are being tried on."

Mrs. Barich invited all interested persons to stop in the new store and examine the extensive lines of clothes—clothes for casual living.

LAFAYETTE CAMERA

Another well-known businessman in the area, Bob Goddard, has announced the opening of the Lafayette Camera Shop in the Plaza Center.

Goddard said many people in the area are familiar with his shop which was previously located on Moraga Road.

THE NEW store in the plaza carries the address of 3518-C, Mt. Diablo Boulevard. Some of the additions to the new facility include a complete television sales and service department.

Dick Gadsden, service manager for the television department, has been in Lafayette 13 years where he has been engaged in television servicing.

Goddard drew attention to the new store's complete card and photography lines. Motion picture and still photographic equipment is available, including cameras, projectors, screens, color and black and white film, flash bulbs, electronic flash units.

The new store carries a wide variety of hi-fi and stereo records.

CARDS FOR all occasions are available at the store and salesladies Mrs. Lorraine Noble and Mrs. Jeri Fry will be on hand to help customers, Goddard said.

Goddard said he operated the store on Moraga Road for nine years and the new store in the Plaza Center will continue to offer the same lines of quality equipment. The television sales and service department is one of the main additions to the new facility.

THE LAFAYETTE Camera Shop will be five days a week on a regular schedule and SKI SEASON — John and Patti Kinsolving, operators of the Sporthaus Ski Shop in Orinda, try on some of the store's winter fashions.

Skiers With Questions?

By TOM DOOLEY

When it comes to skiing, there's nothing that can compare with experience and skiing enthusiasts in Orinda need only go to the Sporthaus Ski Shop if they are seeking professional advice regarding skis or ski equipment.

On hand to offer this advice are John A. and Patti Kinsolving, both certified skiing instructors who manage the Sporthaus.

The Kinsolvings are natives of Santa Fe, New Mexico. Both learned to ski before they started elementary school. They are members of the Southern Rocky Mountain Ski Association and both have taught skiing.

THE KINSOLVINGS are interesting people. Their backgrounds show they have varied interests and talents. Both are graduates of the University of New Mexico. He holds a bachelor's and a master's degree in history.

John Kinsolving is presently attending an Episcopal seminary (where he has been a student for the past three years) and when asked he said he is "considering" going into church work. "I haven't really decided yet," he said, adding "I'm sort of treading water for the time being."

Right now, the Kinsolvings (who have been married five years) are busy running the Sporthaus as the winter sports season moves into high gear.

ASKED ABOUT the merchandise in the Sporthaus, Kinsolving said the store carries a complete line of "Head" skis, the exclusive "Haderer" ski boot (made in Austria), "Bogner" ski apparel and a variety of miscellaneous ski and sports equipment.

Miramonte Mirror

Busy Holiday Whirl

By FRAN OBRECHT and CAROL MEYER

Weekend before last consisted mainly of parties (as usual, college boards, and Christmas shopping. Everyone seemed to keep busy as another weekend passed by.

Francis Stuart held an open house party followed by a slumber party for her friends. Some of those at the open house were Jay Grilli, Bob Lyman, Carol Meyer, Steve Stuckert, Darlyn de Guardia, Doug Dermitt, Hap Parks, Sue Leftwich, Chris Romer, Donny Franklin, Peggy Rose, Gary McCosker, Mikey Kelly, Mike Davis, Ron McGarrity, and Connie de Laveaga. They watched TV and danced and after the boys left the girls spent the rest of the night talking.

At the bright hour of eight in the morning many Seniors were at Miramonte preparing themselves for some long hours of testing.

Some of those taking the all-important College Boards were Toni Aydes, Nancy Snover, Nancy Allen, Merrilee Snell, Terry Palmquist, Kay Dunbar, Kate Ellis, Neil Peirson, Tevis Thompson, Bill Reid, Mike Sheppard, Greg Holme, and Jeff Ellermyer. Many girls could be seen Christmas shopping in Walnut Creek on Saturday. Those who were trying to get ahead of the rush were Cindy Hamilton, Gail Valpreda, Pam Becket, Ginger Ronald, Sis Boyle, Gail St. John, Kitty Bruss and Beth Sheppard.

The annual Christmas Tree Festival was held at the Claremont Hotel last week. Alilanthus branch of the Children's Hospital was hosting and many Orindans were in attendance.

The Junior Prom is to be held on the 20th of this month. The dance has been titled Checkmate and have been planned accordingly. The Juniors are putting a lot of effort into this dance so all of Miramonte come and have a wonderful time.

The annual Basketball Tournament began yesterday and will continue until Saturday. Clayton Valley High School will be the host this year and all the games will be played there. We play Ygnacio Valley on Thursday at 8:30 so as many people as possible plan to attend. The games on Friday and Saturday will be played according to who wins on Thursday so no definite times have been set up as yet. We want to win the basketball sportsmanship award this year so everyone co-operate with the Yell Leaders.

Be sure to come to the Tournament and plan to attend the Junior Prom.

Hats Off To...

Jolly Good Fellow

MISTLETOE Hugs & hot chocolate mugs for that jolly good elf (it could be yourself) who is known to all as Santa and he lives in all of us; In the Christmas Bureau's volunteers, the philanthropist and the field worker; the showwomen who take time to visit the aged and the sick; the busy high-priced executive who's a quiet benefactor of the poor and young girls and boys collecting clothes and books for those less fortunate.

SANTA's spirit prevails in the giving of ourselves, not just at Christmas time, but all year 'round. And rich or poor, healthy or wealthy or penny-pinch weary, we all have something to give, not the least of which is Love & Thought to those around us and across the world.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa. If you read it in The Sun you know it is so.

Acalanes Accents -

Christmas Is Evident, Students Eye Holidays

by Meg Knox

Do you hear what I hear? I hear the sound of the happy voices of the students, jingle bells, Christmas carols, and the sound of running feet.

The running feet belong to our teachers, who just recently realized that Christmas vacation is this week, and they have three more textbooks to cover with the class before finals in January. Oh well, this week was a busy one!

"Christmas at Acalanes," this year's annual Christmas program, will be presented tonight to the general public at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium. There is no admission charge.

Entertainment will include a presentation of the "Little Match Girl" by the modern dance classes, as well as singing by the assorted groups of acapella choir, mixed chorus, girls' chorus, girls' ensemble, and the Acalanes' orchestra. Remember, everyone is invited.

Kelley Wisner, a junior at Acalanes, has received a very unusual and exciting Christmas present this year. She has been accepted by the American Field Service for their foreign exchange student program and she will leave next month for the Union of South Africa. In Africa, Kelley will attend a girls' school in Johannesburg for one year, returning to the United States in December of next year.

Kelley briefly described her "family" with whom she will be living during her stay in Johannesburg.

"WELL, my father is an attorney. My mother is a regular housewife, but has been recently taking lessons in Zulu (language). There is one married daughter (age 16), and two other girls, Gretchen, 15 years old, and Leonie, 12 years old.

THE only boy, William, is six years old."

Kelley will leave January 6, and fly by jet to Africa, stopping shortly in Germany.

She still can't believe it.

"It's... just wonderful!"

The homeroom system once again went into effect last Tuesday. The purpose of these homerooms is to discuss student council affairs with the class representatives. This system, if effective, will be held regularly the Tuesday of every second week.

The main topic of discussion this Tuesday was on the number of dances that Acalanes should have each year. Suggestions were also brought up on how to improve school spirit, as well as physical developments around the school. The council representatives will report their findings and opinions at the next student council meeting.

Acalanes' basketball team, coached by Mr. Bert Barnett, won third place in the Del Valle tournament held last weekend. Friday night the Varsity squad lost to DeAnza, 55-38, but came back Saturday night to defeat Del Valle 55-46. Fred Seely, a senior and a member of the Varsity team, made the All-Tournament Team.

Well, Acalanes High School will be a quiet place until school reopens on January 6. A great percentage of the students plan to go skiing, while the less hearty are retreating down south to Carmel and Palm Springs. Many seniors are going to visit some of the colleges that they are considering to attend next fall. . . Phoenix, Tucson, San Jose, Santa Barbara, etc. The juniors, on the other hand, "plan to work on their term papers" (we know better, don't we?)

Here's wishing you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Candlelight Song Fest Scheduled Sunday Night

"Candlelight Caroling," a program sponsored annually by the parish confraternity of Christian Doctrine at Lafayette's Saint Perpetua Catholic Church, will be held Sunday in the church parking area.

The program will start at 7 p.m., according to Mrs. Sandra Howay, publicity chairman for the event.

All parishioners, their friends and the community are invited to attend and participate by bringing with them their individual candles and join in the singing of Christmas carols," Mrs. Howay said.

This year, Rev. John P. Quinn has sparked the enthusiasm for an even more polished program than the 1962 event," Mrs. Howay said.

"This continuity will be achieved by beginning the program with the blessing of the outdoor Christmas tree by Father Quinn and the narration of the Nativity according to the gospel of Saint Luke and by interjecting appropriate religious scenes along with the caroling," Mrs. Howay explained.

"HIGH SCHOOL students will participate as a choral speaking group doing the narrative. Grade school children will enact the tableaux," Mrs. Howay added.

Mrs. James McMonagle, president of the sponsoring organization, and Mrs. E. J. Howay will co-chairman the event.

More than 30 children are included in the tableaux cast which will be directed by Mrs. Russell Bruzzone. Mrs. Pierre Bourret will be in charge of costumes.

Jack Peterson will direct the choral speakers and Dick McDermott is the chairman of the committee concerned with the physical mechanics of the hillside cantata.

Barton Bacon Takes Part In Exercise

Navy Lieutenant Junior grade Barton E. Bacon, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barton E. Bacon, Jr. of Lafayette, is participating in a coordinated United States and Government of the Republic of China amphibious exercise titled "Big Dipper" while serving aboard the auxiliary submarine USS Red Fish along the southern coast of Taiwan.

Realty Boom In 1964 Predicted

BY ROSELLE ANDERSON

PROSPEROUS 1964 PREDICTED BY BUILDERS at annual National Association of Home Builders Convention.

More than 30,000 builders, national manufacturers and others concerned with housing concluded a five day meeting forecasting an increase of about 1.5 percent in nationwide housing in 1964.

RENTAL HOUSING is on the incline for the eighth consecutive year. Thirty-six percent of all housing starts are anticipated in this field.

Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, chairman of the Senate's subcommittee on housing, expects the passing of a new bill which would contain new urban renewal provisions.

Of the various questions asked government officials these comments were made. Sparkman further said, "I do not look for a change in the housing policy already established by the late President Kennedy."

W. Evans Buchanan, 1963 president of NAHB, said: "I expect President Lyndon Johnson to push the executive order for equal-opportunity housing strongly, but only in the areas of government insured and guaranteed or public housing programs. I do not expect the President to extend the order to cover the conventional home lending market."

SALES UP—MEMBERSHIP DOWN—The Contra Costa Real Estate Board's Sales Report for November 1963 as against November 1962 discloses an increase of cumulative sales of 1,245 and dollar increase of $30,059.66. Active realtor membership declined 20, salesmen membership declined 65 as compared to November 1962.

CHRISTMAS PARTY HELD DEC. 18TH BY CONTRA COSTA BOARD OF REALTORS at Castlewood Country Club in Pleasanton. Over 600 realtors, salesmen and guests attended. "This is the largest event of the year," stated Dave Robertson of E. J. Carey, chairman of this year's Yuletide party.

Steak dinner was served, followed by dancing to Henry Gallagher's orchestra. Free corsages were given to the ladies through the compliments of the John Osmundson Co., and many door prizes were donated through the courtesy of the affiliated firms.

NEW GUARANTEE FORM will be provided to member companies of the California Land Title Association. They have announced a new service for their clients in the form of a guarantee covering the filing of assessment district maps, it was announced this week by Carl E. Weidman, Executive Vice President of CLTA.

This new service stems from legislation passed in the 1963 California General Session of the Legislature. This legislation requires that if a special assessment district is being formed pursuant to the Improvement Acts of 1911 and 1913, a map showing the boundaries of the proposed district must be filed with the county clerk of each county in which all or any part of the proposed district is located. Then, before assessments levied under the proposed district can become a lien, a prescribed notice of assessment must be recorded in the office of the county recorder.

"The only way a lender can acquire information and coverage before the assessment is made is by ordering this new guarantee form," Weidman stated.

The standard form which will be used by member companies is the CLTA Guaranteed Report Form 5. Distribution is being made this week to members according to Richard H. Howlett, Chairman of the CLTA Standard Forms Committee and Senior Vice President and Secretary of Title Insurance and Trust Company.

CONTRACT LET ON ACADEMIC CENTER—Ralph Larsen & Son, South San Francisco building firm, has been awarded a $397,513 contract for the construction of the first unit of a multi-million dollar Academic Center at Diablo Valley College, Concord.

The Larsen Company bid was only $247 lower than its nearest competitor, the Chamberlain Construction Company of Berkeley. Dunstan Granshaw, college district business manager, said the contract calls for construction to start within 10 days and to be completed within eight months, or in time for the opening of the Fall semester in September 1964.

The first unit of the center will provide 11 classrooms, two lecture halls, and basic mechanical installations covering 16,200 square feet of floor space. Alternates included in the bid are flying bridge connecting the new unit with the present administration building, and wiring for closed circuit television.

The full complex, to be built over a five-year period, will consist of 11 buildings.

WALNUT CREEK CONSTRUCTION SLOWS UP IN NOVEMBER—but the 26 building permits issued still mounted to a substantial $244,147.

The 1963 total is now $16,069,581 having passed sometime ago the previous annual record, made in 1962 of $12,244,315.

JOHN J. ROCK'S APPLICATION DENIED—Reasoning of 22 acres on Crow Canyon Road, San Ramon, from agricultural to multiple-family classification has been denied by the county planning commission. John J. Rock's application covered property fronting 850 feet on the south side of Crow Canyon Road, east of Bollinger Canyon Road.

The commission approved rezoning of 12 acres of the Thomas B. Bishop ranch, San Ramon, at the request of Rhodes & Jamieson, which plans a concrete mix plant at the east end of Norris Canyon Road, adjacent to the Southern Pacific Co. right-of-way. The firm plans to move its plant from Danville.

Brattain Will Assume Post

R. R. Brattain of Lafayette is a fellow of the American Institute of Physics and since 1956 has been a delegate member of the commission on molecular spectroscopy of the International Union of Pure and Applied Chemistry.

After receiving his bachelor's degree in physics from the University of Washington in 1933, Brattain took graduate work at Princeton University before joining Shell. In his new capacity he will have the technical information services, treasury, service engineering, and purchasing and stores departments reporting to him.

Brattain came to Shell's research center in 1938. He became head of the spectroscopic department in 1946 and head of the analytical chemistry department two years ago.

BRATTAIN is internationally known for his research in the field of spectroscopy. He was recently appointed manager of the service division at Shell Development Company's Emeryville, Calif., research center. Dr. T. W. Evans, vice president, announced. The appointment is effective January 1.

TENNESSEE ERNIE FORD and JANE PUTNAM, ASSOCIATE EDITOR OF THE SUN

Season's Sights and Sounds on TV

By JANE PUTNAM

Have the whole family pull up their chairs in front of your TV Sunday at 10 p.m. and tune in channel 4 for a Christmas television treat. Better yet, if you have a friend who has color TV, have the whole family take their chairs over to his house.

"The Story of Christmas," starring Tennessee Ernie, captures the sights and sounds and mood of the holiday season. With every color in the peacock.

HOW COME The Sun is plugging a national TV show? "Where is Ye Olde Local Angle?" loyal readers may ask.

Into each suburban editor's life some light must fall. Just when I was sure none would fall into mine, a telegram (well over the 10 word limit) came for me last week.

The most astounding thing about it, in an office where every paper clip and scrap of paper counts, is that the wire was from San Francisco.

It invited me to the world preview of A HOLIDAY SPECIAL SCHEDULED FOR DECEMBER 22 OUR OLD PEAPICKING BUDDY ERNIE FORD WILL BE IN ATTENDANCE AS WELL AS GENERAL RAWLINS, HEAD OF GENERAL MILLS, THE SPONSORING COMPANY. THE PREVIEW WILL BE HELD IN THE KRON TV STUDIOS PROMPTLY AT 4:00 PM TUESDAY RSVPCORDIALLY. A RICHARD ROBERTSON PROMOTION MANAGER KRON TV SAN FRANCISCO

I IMMEDIATELY called A Richard who was out. A Richard's secretary was delighted that I could accept with pleasure. However, she was taken aback when I asked if it would be all right if I brought my children.

She would have A Richard return my call as soon as he returned from lunch. A Richard was not too sure about my bringing children, either.

"YOU SEE," the General might serve liquid embolism, and it might not. However, you could leave the children off next door at Mayor Art's telecast.

"Oh, the children are teenagers," I laughed, "but please forget I mentioned it." A Robertson did not laugh; but he graciously insisted that I bring my girls.

At 4 p.m., after picking them up after school, we were as far as the toll plaza of the Bay Bridge. "Where is the studio?" asked practical Pat.

By the expression on my face, she knew that I didn't know. She asked the toll taker, who knew.

AT 4:15, we wound our way through the corridors of KRON-TV to Studio B where we promptly opened the soundproof door letting sounds and light enter with us.

There were three seats in the front row. We groped our way to them, walking in front of, and stepping on the toes of, the gentleman who turned out to be the old pea pickin' buddy himself.

There were two TV sets at 45 degree angles to each other. There was a handful of people in the dark room—all transfixed by the 23-inch screens.

Groups of African, Mexican and Oriental children were singing of the Christ Child in their native tongue. They were backed by the Roger Wagner chorale and orchestra.

I, TOO, became transfixed. Then suddenly, the screen blacked out. The man next to Pat, the one with ear phones, groaned in anguish.

In the three seconds of the power failure, a man who was obviously A Richard Robertson announced: "Half of the engineers on the West Coast are working on this."

There were no more interruptions. At intervals, I looked from the screen to the audience and tried to figure out who was General Rawlins, Terrence O'Flaherty, and who was from which paper.

THE INTERVALS between audience searching and screen-watching became longer. Soon, I was completely captivated by "The Story of Christmas."

One of the most delightful numbers is a new Christmas carol, "Little Grey Donkey Tonight" in which the animal's importance to the Nativity is underscored. Tennessee Ernie shares the spotlight with a donkey as he sings, in fine full tones, the charming carol with lyrics by Charles Tazewell and music by Roger Wagner.

The last 18 minutes of this holiday special is devoted to an animated version of the story of the Nativity. Ford narrates the story according to the Gospel of St. Luke. The animation sequence was created by Eyvind Earle, one of the nation's leading Christmas card artists.

THE PREVIEW was shown simultaneously in New York and Hollywood for the artist and the composer, I learned later. The producer and director, William N. Burch, was the gentleman with the ear-phones.

"The Story of Christmas" closes with final words from Tennessee Ernie, followed by the chorale singing "Silent Night."

The lights went on. There were several moments of silence before the applause. It was a kind of church silence.

Everyone began shaking Tennessee Ernie's hand and telling him what a beautiful show it was. I said so too, and genuinely meant it; although I felt that my qualifications as a critic were limited.

GENERAL RAWLINS put on quite a spread. I looked for the girls to tell them that refreshments consisted of open face sandwiches and coffee. They had ducked into the next studio to see Mayor Art!

I was about to follow when A Robertson formally introduced me to Tennessee Ernie. A Robertson suggested that Tennessee do some clowning on a nearby ladder for a publicity picture.

TENNESSEE ERNIE refused, saying that it wouldn't be in keeping with the show. Instead, he grabbed me around the waist, real friendly-like, and said to smile at A Robertson.

Back at the office, yesterday, I received a Capitol stereo recording of the original sound track of the spectacular to "remind me of the show."

All things considered, the little boy I left at home can buy as many boxes of General Mills cereals (just for the boxtops) that he wants to for the rest of this winter.

Pro and Kahr...

'Attractive Nuisance' Prompts 253 Suicides

(Editor's note: A carbon copy of the following column was sent to the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District in time for a reply to run simultaneously.)

By ROBERT KAHN

This is an open letter — based upon 253 lives. Just the other day I heard on the radio and read in the newspaper the story of number 253 — the car stopped midway across the bridge, a man got out, rushed to the edge of the bridge and jumped. A half hour later the Coast Guard recovered the body.

NOW WE will have to wait a few day more to read about number 254.

As I thought about this — and tried to count the number of people that I consider friends, to see if I could reach a total of 253 — I also thought of other facts.

FOR EXAMPLE, I understand that cattlemen by using a simple electrified fence can keep cattle from breaking through the fence. This made it seem even more strange that you, the Board of Directors, couldn't put an end to suicides on your bridge.

ANOTHER THOUGHT that came to mind was the bridge across Arroyo Seca into Pasadena. In my youth this was the great suicide bridge. But before the count got much past 100 suicides (which your bridge passed many years ago) the people in the area protested so strongly that the city fathers did something about the problem. We no longer hear about suicides off that bridge.

I THOUGHT about football coaches who wanted to keep spies out of their practice sessions. They apparently have no problems. I thought about the many government plants that are protected by fences that are extremely difficult to climb — with their barbed wire tops tilting backwards toward the climber.

GENTLEMEN—if there had been such a fence on your bridge number 253 could not have committed suicide. A fence probably would have prevented almost all of the suicides.

I AM CERTAIN that two thoughts are running through your mind at this time. First you are concerned about the beauty of the bridge—and you feel that a fence will destroy the beauty. Second you are saying that these people would have committed suicide somewhere else if they couldn't use your convenient location. Let us look at these two points.

First let us determine an equation that will offset the pleasures of beauty against the needless taking of lives. The fence won't be apparent to people who watch the true beauty of the Golden Gate and the bridge from atop Twin Peaks or the Berkeley Hills or Mt. Tamalpais. It seems to me that the argument of beauty can not even offset the weight of a single life that could have been preserved.

ON THE SECOND POINT, I must first confess that I am not a psychologist. I am sort of like Will Rogers—all he knew was what he read in the newspaper. But my readings indicate that past record of 253 suicides from your bridge when combined with a person inclined to suicide tends to make certain that the person with a suicidal intent will actually become a suicide. Thus it appears to me that your failure to act on this matter when you already have a record of 253 known suicides must place upon your shoulders some of the moral responsibility for these deaths.

Just as I am not a psychologist, I am not a lawyer. Yet my insurance broker has tried to explain to me many times, when discussing my personal liability policy, the concept of "maintaining an attractive nuisance." The terms he uses usually relate to my car.

FOR EXAMPLE, he tells me that if I leave my car parked in my driveway on my own property, but not locked and a small child climbs into it without permission, lets off the brake, and in the resulting accident is hurt, that I can be held liable for his injury because I have "maintained an attractive nuisance."

In other words, if I had not tempted him by putting the car where he could climb in, he would not have been hurt. I don't know whether or not such theories of "maintaining an attractive nuisance" applies to people who operate bridges and adults who commit suicide.

Even if such a legal argument does exist, I sincerely believe that you gentlemen, as representatives of us people have a moral responsibility to eliminate an "attractive nuisance" that prompts suicidal acts.

Programs Scheduled

The gift of music will be presented to the community during the week of Christmas by the choir of the Lafayette Orinda Presbyterian Church, 49 Knox Drive, Lafayette.

During the Sunday morning worship services at 9:30 and 11 a.m., the Chancel choir will present part one of Handel's "Messiah," under the direction of Michael Livingston. Soloists include Helen Kimball, Carol Merritt and Richard Brock.

SUNDAY evening will feature "Christmas Around the World," a family Christmas program at 7 p.m. Music will be presented by the junior and primary choirs, with narration by Scampie Hickcox and Ted Stratton. Kay Valory will direct the program, assisted by Rosemarie Ockels.

The junior high choir, led by Mike Livingston, will present "The Piper's Carol," "Now We go to Bethlehem," and "Three Songs for Christmas." The latter will feature a trombone quartet.

DIRECTED by Virginia Siebert, members of the Junior Choir will present "Little Drummer Boy," featuring David Merritt on drums. Cathy Quinn will also sing a solo piece. Betty Clark directs the primary choir in several carols.

On Christmas Eve, there will be an 11 p.m. Vesper service, with members of the Chancel and Westminster choirs participating under Mike Livingston's leadership.

The choirs will present "The Christmas Story," a contemporary praise cantata by Ron Nelson.

All of these musical programs are open to the community.

Morris Serving On Radar Ship

Michael J. Morris, electrician's mate second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Morris of Lafayette, is serving aboard the radar picket destroyer USS Kenneth D. Bailey.

Bailey recently completed an extensive overhaul at the shipyard in Charleston, S.C. and is currently undergoing refresher training at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

The James C. Small Memorial Student Aid Fund at the University of California's Berkeley campus was recently announced by Theodore Monell, one of a group of Bay Area leaders making up a committee representing the Olympic Club, the Dolphin Club, the Cal Quarterback Club, the Alumni Big 'C' Society, the California Alumni Association, Bache & Company, and the South End Rowing Club.

SMALL WAS the athlete whose 69-hour battle for life against heavy odds attracted widespread public attention and sympathy.

So great was public interest that a record 404 persons gave blood to help him in his battle.

Small, 28 years old at his death, lived in Orinda as a high school student. At Acalanes High School he won letters for four years in football and swimming while getting the grades needed for California Scholastic Federation membership.

HE WON honorable mention on the All American High School swimming team. He also served in the United States Marine Corps.

At Cal, Small made the All American swim team in 1958 and 1959 and he held the Pacific coast championship in the 440 yard and 1500 meter free style.

He established university swimming records in four events and he was an All

THE MEMORIAL fund is being set up to provide financial assistance to men students participating in the athletic program at the university who need such aid to complete their education.

First preference will be given to members of the swimming and water polo teams.

Friends and organizations associated with Small have started the fund.

After graduating from College, Small joined Francis I. DuPont & Company in San Francisco. He later became associated with Bache & Company. He remained active in sports and played water polo for the Olympic Club while staying active in alumni and civic affairs.

THE SPIRIT which made him a star in football, swimming and water polo sustained Jim for nearly three days despite massive injuries," Col. Harold McBurney, chief of orthopedic surgery at Letterman General Hospital, said.

Small was maimed by a boat during a five-mile swim from Sausalito to San Francisco's Aquatic Park on October 20.

Gaiety For Jr. Alliance

At the elegant Piedmont home of the Marvin Groves, Junior Alliance members and their guests recently began the festive holiday season with cocktails and Social Chairman Mrs. James D. Kaufman of Walnut Creek helped arrange the event.

"After party parties"—most spontaneous and unplanned—followed the festivities. At Peters in Lafayette were the Dean Maddax's, Wallace Hagglunds, Winton Mathers and Lyle Decks.

Also dining there were the George Stamms, Donald Beardons, William VanBokkelsens, William Parsons and William Nevins.

Petar, himself, embarrassed by their having to wait so long, treated all to his special strawberry shortcake dessert... most delightful.

Over heard discussing their New Years Eve plans were the Ted Lakes and Winton Mathers who recently entertained jointly at the Mather's Orinda home. The Wallace Hagglunds (Sandy is the new president of Jr. Alliance) will trek to Jackson with the Carson McKisicks to see the New Year in.

Heard making unofficial plans for the annual Mayfair Fashion Show were the Mmes. Richard Burns, Donald Anderson, William Martin and Richard Russell—all of this side of the tunnel.

New members from this area attending their first Junior Alliance event were the Keith Blakenys, Lyle Decks, Walter De Faria, Robert Grays, Peter Hegeries and Donald Hubbards.

John Hayden Is Engaged

KAREN MITCHELL

The San Francisco Bachelors will lose another member next February when John MacRae Hayden of Orinda claims Karen Elizabeth Mitchell of San Francisco as his bride.

Announcement of the engagement was recently made at a family dinner given by the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. Neil Peter Peterson of San Francisco.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Russell Hayden, 41 Tara Road, Orinda. A graduate of Mt. Diablo High School and the University of California, he was associated with Phi Gamma Delta, Honor Society—Skull and Keys, Beta Beta, and Winged Helmet.

Karen is the daughter of Mr. Clarence R. Mitchell of Lafayette and the late Mrs. Mitchell. She is a graduate of the Castillaja School in Palo Alto and Diablo Valley College.

One grandfather will join the group—Roddy Kendall's father, Dr. Gaylord Cook of Berkeley. The bus will pick everyone up from host Howard's David home at 10:30 p.m. to bring them back to Orinda. The members of each family will go to their own homes, put their children to bed and prepare their tree for early Christmas.

New Officers At Eastern Star

Almona Chapter No. 214, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold its December meeting Saturday at 8 p.m. in the masonic Temple, Locust and Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Walnut Creek. Worthy Matron Betty M. Horgan and William Lucas, worthy patron, will conduct their first meeting with the assistance of new corps of officers.

New officers include Ardell and Edward Burr, associate matron and patron; Geraldine Chaffin and Edith Lindgren, conductress and associate conductress; Anna Moscrop and Winita Hutton, secretary and treasurer; Lois Cain, Jeanne Pinard, Winita Crawford, Evelyn Stanger, and Elizabeth Hemrich, star points; Elmira Mallmann and Gerald Hemrich, warder and sentinel; and Dorothy Maguire, organist. Junior Part Matron and Patron Viola and Raymond Crew will serve as marshal and chaplain.

Our Feathered Friends...

Flamingo Officers

New officers for next year were installed at the recent annual Christmas Tea held for the Flamingo Unit of Mt. Diablo Therapy Center at the home of Mrs. Harold Turner of Walnut Creek.

Talking about plans for coming events are (above from left) Mrs. Robert Bardell of Orinda, past president; Mrs. Eugene Ingalls of Pleasant Hill, new president; Mrs. Wray Bennett of Walnut Creek, recording secretary; and Mrs. Harold H. Turner of Walnut Creek vice-president.

At the right, Mrs. William Markham of Concord, treasurer, chats with Mr. Walter D. Reed, hospitality; Mrs. Jack Volkman of Pleasant Hill, publicity; and Mrs. Clarence Garibotti of Walnut Creek, transportation.

Cardinals Fete New Members

The Cardinal Unit of the Mount Diablo Therapy Center held a tea and installation of new officers last Monday. The annual tea was given in the Lafayette home of Mrs. Marguerite West, sponsor of the unit.

New officers for the coming year will be Mrs. Jack Jackson, president; Mrs. Volney Peters, vice president; Mrs. James Souden corresponding secretary; Mrs. James Larsen, recording secretary; Mrs. Vincent Diers, treasurer; and Mrs. Peter Danley, representative-at-large.

Two new members, Mrs. Bruce Simon and Mrs. Eugene Hartman, were welcomed into the group by Mrs. Doon Schultz, presidents Mmes. Lionel Williams, Richard Jarrett, James Donahue, Carl Malburg, and Mrs. Ellen Park were introduced as prospective members.

The Cardinals concluded the year's activities with a champagne cocktail party Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Donley opened their Alamo home for the Christmas affair.

Vincent Mahers Host Tau Nu

Traditional holiday decorations and carol singing set the scene at the Moraga home of Mrs. Vincent Maher, yesterday evening for Tau Nu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi's annual Christmas Party.

Social chairman, Mrs. Jack Beck and her committee planned many innovations for this year's gala event.

A short business meeting was preceded by champagne cocktails and dinner. As a finale, Santa arrived just in time to distribute gaily wrapped presents for the "secret sister" gift exchange.

Tau Nu chapter will donate two complete Christmas baskets to county needy families. Mrs. George Dierssen, service chairman, announced that the chapter has also baked cookies for the county hospital, aided in the Muscular Dystrophy collection campaign, and donated a Thanksgiving dinner basket as part of their continuing community service project.

Open House At The Ford's

The President of the California College of Arts and Crafts, Harry X. Ford, and Mrs. Ford have issued invitations for their 5th annual holiday open house, to be held from 5 to 8 p.m. Saturday at their home, 2637 San Benito Drive, Ignacio Valley, Walnut Creek.

The guest list includes, in addition to faculty, staff and board members of the noted art college, many Bay Area art leaders and artists, art critics and city officials.

Assisting Celeste Ford as hostesses will be her sister and niece, Mrs. Al Nooger, and Anita Nooger, Mr. Philip C. deBacca Mrs. Richard Biggles.

Decorations this year promise to be particularly elegant. They are being created by a young CCAC interior design student, John Chung of Berkeley, who recently returned from a 12-week European study tour, top award won in a competition sponsored by the American Institute of Interior Designers, Northern California Chapter.

The art college initials

"CCAC" will be motif for the decorations—with an additional meaning: "Contemporary Colors at Christmas". Chung has chosen soft shades of moss green and tones of pink-through-fuschia to use throughout the house, in many-sized spheres covered with tissue roses and touched with the glint of tiny silver balls.

Outdoors on a modular screen, part of the permanent garden architecture, will be stylized Christmas trees of gold and green, reflecting the glow of strategically placed garden lights. Chung will include in his plans the traditional "faralitos"—tiny candle lights which each year line the Fords' walks, guiding the guests to the holiday affair with their cheerful and festive welcome. Faralitos will also be grouped about the rear patio, where a special awning has been designed to accommodate those guests who wish to enjoy the out-of-doors whatever the weather.

Again a huge punch bowl will be the center of festivities, filled this time with Bowle champagne punch. The traditional smorgasbord, enhanced by a claret red runner, will hold the gourmet delights for which the Ford parties are noted. Silver ornaments will complement the silver service.

The decor will appeal not only to the area's artists but to the foreign friends on the guest list. Among those receiving invitations are: members of the Walnut Creek City Council; Mayor and Mrs. Newell Case; City Manager and Mrs. L. A. Kimball; Msrs. and Mmes. Francis X. Driscoll, Farrell Reilly, Fred Sanders, Robert Schroeder.

Walnut Creek Art Commission members: Msrs. Msrs. and Mmes. Paul Bonilla, Ted Guernsey, Peter Howard (she is a mosaicist); Frank Roberts (she is chairman of the Commission and a well-known water colorist); B. R. Wilder.

Other artists, art leaders, friends of CCAC and patrons of the arts receiving invitations include: Dr. and Mrs. John M. Ellis (she is working on development of the Valley Art Center; Lafayette); Ron Caya (director of the Walnut Creek Civic Arts Program); Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lee Brown (Gloria Brown is a painter, recently won painting award in Orinda); Mr. and Mrs. James McCray, Walnut Creek (he is on U.C. art faculty); and Dr. and Mrs. Grover MacLeod, Orinda (he is a painter).

Clan Christmas Capers

The prolific Kendall clan, long-time East Bay family, will charter a bus on Christmas eve to take them from various locales to near Sacramento for a festive family dinner.

The 29 Kendalls will meet at a chartered bus in Orinda at 4 p.m. Christmas eve; then they will enjoy dinner and Christmas tree festivities in Davis at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Howard (she's Betty Kendall) and their three children, Tom, Katy and Casey.

On the merry bus will be the eldest brother and currently head of the clan, Edward H. Kendall of Lafayette, his wife Roddy, their daughter and son-in-law, Ensign Michael and Liz Ann (Kendall) Downs, and their five-month old daughter, Shelley, who will have arrived in Lafayette from Pensacola, where Mike is a jet pilot with the United States Navy.

Bobbie Jean and Eddie Kendall, also progeny of Edward H., will board their home with their parents in Lafayette.

Also on the bus will be Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Middleton—Mrs. Middleton is Gay Kendall, daughter of the Edward Kendalls—and their two children, Kathryn and David, who have previously arrived from their home in Modesto.

Meanwhile Edward's brother Spencer Kendall of Orinda, his wife Margaret and their four children, Rod, Rob, Bickie and Jim, and Edward and Spencer's brother, Richard Kendall, also of Orinda, and his wife

Joan, their daughter Crissy and their son and daughter-in-law, Ricky and Robin Kendall, at Oakland, will climb the bus steps with their Christmas packages.

Bill Langan of Orinda and his wife, the former Emmv Lou Kendall, "baby" sister of Edward, Spencer and Richard Kendall and their four children, Kendall, Bonnie, Barney and Katie, also will board the bus.

One grandfather will join the group—Roddy Kendall's father, Dr. Gaylord Cook of Berkeley. The bus will pick everyone up from host Howard's David home at 10:30 p.m. to bring them back to Orinda. The members of each family will go to their own homes, put their children to bed and prepare their tree for early Christmas.

Meanwhile Edward's brother Spencer Kendall of Orinda, his wife Margaret and their four children, Rod, Rob, Bickie and Jim, and Edward and Spencer's brother, Richard Kendall, also of Orinda, and his wife

The Meaning Of Christmas

PASTOR ROBERT E. WILLIAMS
Grace Presbyterian Church

Most persons at one time or another in life question whether God really cares. When some personal disappointment or group tragedy strikes, we look for reassurance that there is meaning and hope for humans, and that our struggle is worth the effort.

Our spiritual forefathers in Israel in such times could recall God's mighty act in creation, his covenant made with father Abraham, his saving power that brought Moses and the chosen people out of slavery in Egypt to the moral law at Mount Sinai.

WITHIN THIS community, bound to God by covenant and law, there arose prophets who answered the question asked in times of trouble by asserting that God did care. They said that he would someday come to bring healing and righteousness and peace — to establish his rule in the hearts of men.

The real joy behind the Christmas festivity is the good news that God has acted to answer our basic question. Life is worthwhile! Good is good and he does care! As Doctor Luke records the birth of Jesus:

"BLESSED BE the Lord God of Israel for he has visited and redeemed his people and raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David, as he spoke by the mouth of his holy prophets from of old..."

For the full meaning of Christmas is not limited to Bethlehem where Jesus was born. It is to be seen in the cities and on the hillsides of Palestine where Jesus taught and debated and healed. It is to be experienced at the cross on Calvary Hill, where Jesus died for the sins of the world.

It is to be trusted as we hear of the empty tomb outside Jerusalem, where the Messiah met the tragedy of death and broke its fearful hold. The meaning of Christ's birth finds its fulfillment when in individual finds the living Savior in the fellowship of his Church, and seeks to live in obedience to the new covenant which God seeks to establish with all who will respond to Christ.

THIS WEEK men of faith join with the earliest believers in asking God "...to grant us, that we, being devoured from the hand of our enemies, might serve him without fear, in holiness and righteousness before him all the days of our life."

Christmas means that God cares and helps. For God has visited and redeemed his people in Jesus the Messiah!

Lessons Learned In 'Rough' Year

BY RABBI DAVID ROBINS
Temple Beth Israel, Lafayette

As the final days of this year's calendar slip away into the realm of the past and we review our activities, we can hardly inflate ourselves with joy over our accomplishments during the last 12 months. Unless of course survival — no mean achievement in itself — is to be the gauge of the good life.

However, in terms of the American promise, survival alone is not a proper criterion of accomplishment. We have posted other scales. We have held out the notion that people could share differences of opinion and still maintain amicable channels of communication with each other.

WE HAVE espoused the peculiar idea that men can build a society in which the individual could live and be judged on the basis of his own merit. These ideas which are the basis of our dream remain goals to be achieved; how closely we approximate their realization is the measure of our accomplishment.

This last year witnessed a climate of intense partisanship which provided an atmosphere charged with invective, diatribe, hatred and violence. The American scene was rent by conflict because there are those who continue to suppress individual rights in order to salvage personal considerations of pocket or position. There was little joy in what occurred.

WE CAN share little sense of national progress unless the bitter experiences of 1963 have taught us that we can no longer allow our practices to make a mockery of the promises we proclaim. Neither rancor nor indifference can be permitted to restrain the realization of America's potential.

Certainly neither can be allowed to give lie to "peace and good-will" — unless these words represent a temporary truce rather than a condition of permanent intent.

Same Old Story -- Ever New

BY CHAUNCEY BLOSSOM

Orinda Community Church (United Church of Christ) It is the lovely custom of the good people of Boston to decorate the Commons with a variety of Christmas scenes, and at the corner near the State House there is always a beautifully done nativity scene.

Choirs from the city and neighboring communities come and sing Christmas music at numerous times during the day, and occasionally devout people kneel in adoration before the manger scene.

WE WERE standing there some years ago wrapped in our own thoughts when we were startled by the comment of a passer-by to his friend. Pointing to the scene before him he said,

"You'd think they could come up with something new every year."

HOW LIKE that we all are. Caught in a civilization which puts a premium upon a new model a year, we hurry along our way thinking that there must be something wrong with almost everything that doesn't regularly change its style.

Yet what is it that we are seeking? It is not knowledge of a Love that is genuine, and a peace which passes all understanding? Where else shall we find it if not in God's eternal love declared in that humble scene? He has invaded time in the person of Jesus Christ.

This message is still the brightest and fairest hope of man. Here is the source of something really new — new hope, new joy, and if we truly turn that way, the new song will wing its way into our hearts. Listen! GLORY TO GOD IN THE HIGHEST, AND ON EARTH PEACE AMONG MEN OF GOOD WILL.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord.

Happy, Holy Celebration

BY REV. JAMES J. WADE
Pastor Christ the King Catholic Church

As we are about to celebrate the birthday of the Prince of Peace, we are faced with the grim reality that we are living in a world that is fighting a cold war, a world in which the Prince of Peace is ignored, if not completely denied — a world that is suffering from the necessity of religion.

Hence in our bewilderment and confusion we should stop and take inventory of our spiritual lives; and if we are sincere with God and with ourselves, we must admit that there is room for improvement, and that some spiritual adjustment should be made. We say spiritual adjustment, because without this no social, economic, or political adjustment will save our civilization.

THESE THINGS have been tried and have failed. We can however be saved by turning to God. By turning to an Infant in a manger the world was saved twenty centuries ago, and by turning to Him again it can be saved today.

But what was the world like 2000 years ago? It was very much like the world of our time. Never perhaps were two periods of history more alike. There was Nationalism in Israel, Militarism in Rome. Caesar, the dictator, took away individual rights. Taxation was excessive. Religion was on the decline. Wealth was in the hands of a few. Men were tired of war. Virgil, who lived during those times, described it;

"Where right and wrong are blest, A world that teems with war, a world that reeks With countless crime, where evermore the plough Lacks its due honor, and the hind is forced Far from the desolate fields, and reaping hooks are straightened into swords."

THAT WORLD needed a Savior, but it expected Him to come from the wrong place. If in those days men were asked where they expected Him to come from they would answer in terms of one of the great metropolitan centers — Rome, Athens, Jerusalem. And if some men of our time were asked where they expected the Savior to come from, they would answer in terms of Washington, London, and some, guilty of false patriotism, would even expect Him to come from Moscow. How badly we guess.

The Savior was born in the insignificant town of Bethlehem, and He came to set man right with his God, right with his fellowman. But the doors were closed to Him. There was no room for Him in the homes and hearts of men, just as there is no room for Him in the homes and hearts of many today. Yet we depend on Him for everything, as He is the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. "I am the way, the truth and the life."

THE BASIC reason why the world is not at peace today, despite the yearly festival of Christmas, is that we want peace but we fail to realize that peace is conditioned on giving glory to God. Peace on earth to men depends on how men on earth give glory to God in heaven. If therefore personal peace and world peace are inseparable from giving glory to God, does it not follow that we must begin again giving Him glory as individuals and as nations.

Here lies the basis for our happiness here and hereafter. The Christless world has had its false peace long enough. What we need is not strong bodies but strong souls, souls made strong by a return to God.

WE KNOW the cheap answer that may be given. We had Christianity for 1900 years and the world is no better for it. During those centuries when men worshiped God the world was better and men were better, and if the world is in a state of spiritual decadence today, it is not because Christianity has failed, but because we have failed to be Christian.

As G. K. Chesterton so aptly puts it: "Christianity has not been tried and found wanting, it has been found difficult and left untied."

It is well nigh time we should stop laying down the conditions on which we will love God, and live up to the conditions God has laid down for us. The challenge thrown to the apostles, "Could you not watch one hour with me?" might be thrown to men today.

EACH ONE of us should be able to give God one hour each week in our respective church, and live our faith for the rest of the week. Religion is not a cloak to be worn on Sunday and cast off on Monday.

Christmas is a time of rebirth, it is a time of rededication to God. Let us celebrate it with Christ and His Mother, and then it will be a happy, and a holy one.

Greetings From Mazatlan

By ELEANOR SILVERMAN

"A budget-priced paradise."

That's what it says on the brochure for Mazatlan, on the tropical west coast of Mexico.

It truly is a paradise with the waves beating on the white sand right below the balcony of our room at the Hotel Playa. A multicolored parrot is perched on the rail, against the background of a rock-studded shore. A built-in florist of vermillion bougainvillea blossoms on the balcony rail adds the final touch of color.

Just a few miles out at sea, sailfish, marlin, and dolphin are just waiting for you to catch them. The bright blue - and - yellow phosphorescent hooked marlin, struggling for survival, is a spectacular sight. We watched him gracefully dart below water and then jump skyward. And when the battle was finally over (Her-man will tell you about his struggle with the 110-pound, eight foot fish), the exotic colors suddenly change to a dull grey, as if the marlin were demonstrating. "You can kill me, but you can't capture my beauty."

So much for paradise. How about the "budget priced" bit? Actually, Mexico always proves to be a bargain — costing about half as much as the equivalent in foreign flavor and colorful tropic beaches anywhere else.

One new-found friend here explained, "I have been working on my husband for years to get him to take me to Hawaii, and he is happy to compromise on Mazatlan. Next year, I'm planning a trip to the Orient so we can make it to Hawaii."

And besides, where else could you go to find such nice people? On our recent shopping tour, we decided to buy two elegant "Hecho in Mexico" wool knit suits. We were delighted with the low price and told the saleslady to wrap them up for us. She gave us a funny look, waited a minute and then went on her own to the manager of the store to arrange a discount for us.

Obviously she couldn't stand to see these "Muy loco Americanos" get gyped, even if she had to take matters in her own hands.

The Mexican people are not only sweet, but they make every effort to give you that extra service. At breakfast, your coffee cup is filled so often that it is impossible to get the coffee level down a full inch at any given time.

Our guide on the tour of the city of Mazatlan showed us every important tourist sight, threw in a few out of the way villages and factories, and added his own version of the exciting story of Mexico's development in the past five years.

He explained the Government's effective Education and Sanitation program.

"Look, even the little, dirty-looking streets are neat and clean," he pointed out.

The reason, he explained, is that anyone who fails to keep his property and the street in front clean is put in a chain gang and then has to clean it anyway. Well, it works!

He told us of the many bridges, highways, hydro-electric plants, railroads, housing redevelopment that had been constructed in such a few years. We saw evidence of this progress in Mazatlan. He assured us that the nationalization of the telephone industry and the movies was not a case of "Putting the poor business man out of work," but rather that the former owners were well paid by the government and were "happy with the deal."

Incidentally, our guide is an American.

Mexico obviously is going ahead at a fast pace. In the meantime, the tourist can enjoy his half-priced taste of a foreign, friendly tropical paradise in Mazatlan — only a few air hours from central Contra Costa County.

'Let Us Go Over To Bethlehem'

(Editor's note: The Rev. and Mrs. C. Calavan of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda, took a trip to the Holy Land a few years ago. She recently gave a talk to the children in the Parish Day School and showed them some of the mementos they brought home. It occurred to her this would be a good time to recall seeing Bethlehem.)

BY MRS. FRANCES J. CALAVAN

"And they said one to another, 'Let us go over to Bethlehem, and see this thing that has happened, which the Lord made known to us.' So reads the 15th verse of the second chapter of the Gospel according to St. Luke.

Let us make our pilgrimage into Bethlehem this day, making the short journey from Jerusalem to Bethlehem, a distance of about 11 miles. We leave the main road in the Holy City going past the Mt. of Olives and the place in the Garden of Gethsemane where our Lord prayed so often. As we follow along the dusty road, we notice to the sides of us the dry rolling fields where grow the rich vineyards and the grey-green olive groves of this part of Palestine.

WE ARE quiet and thinking what this must have been like nearly 2000 years ago. Probably not very different in cultivation and the rolling terrain than it is today. We make a slight turn to the left, and coming up over a little knoll, we see a flock of sheep, they are a dirty grey, but will padded with wool.

In the midst stand two young men. One is dressed very much as your youngsters when they enact the Nativity pageant in the Sunday School program. In full tan robe with a corded sash and a square brown cloth tied on straight over his head. The other in a long dark coat, with heavy padded sleeves. Tied about his waist is a double cord rope. On his head is a stocking cap in maroon rolled into a heavy cuff. Yes, these have probably been the garb of the Shepherds for many centuries.

IT SEEMS so dry and rocky where these sheep are trying to graze. We try to imagine all the tiny wild flowers blooming here in the Spring which we hear grow in such profusion. This area is known as the "Shepherd's Field". This is the place where the angels brought tidings of Christ's birth to the shepherds as they sat watching their flocks by night.

Around the next bend in the narrow stony road we look off in the distance and see the "little town". This is Bethlehem, which in Hebrew means "The House of Bread". It is framed in date palms, and gnarled olive trees. The city seems to be clustered around the steeples of the Church of the Holy Nativity. We can see the squared white buildings silhouetted against the sky, and the slopes of the hills terraced with olive groves.

WE COME to the Basilica in Bethlehem, built over the traditional site of Jesus' birth. Let us walk along the cobblestone courtyard and find the very small door into the church. It is standing open. It seems dark inside as we leave the bright sunshine. We go down a few steps to the small grotto. Here we are each given a taper to light.

Our eyes come to rest on a very modest altar in the room, which is more like a cave. A large, many-pointed silver star is fixed in the floor below the altar with the Latin inscription which we have translated for us, "Here Jesus Christ was born of the Virgin Mary". We pause. We bow our heads, offering our great thanksgiving and praise that this event came to pass, knowing He came in the guise of the simplest kind; the birth of a baby to a young girl, and so He comes to us today in the same unlikely places as when the Shepherds found Him.

MANY AMBER and red sanctuary lamps are burning over this place where our Lord was laid, representing the many different religious groups who come faithfully to worship here. Across the room is a place where Mary laid the tiny baby in swaddling clothes. Here is the altar dedicated to St. Joseph, and next to that the "Milk Grotto" where Mary nursed her young child.

These place so dimly lit with oil lamps and candles allow us the quiet to somehow feel it was right for God to choose to reveal Himself to man when He did and in this place.

At this Christmas season we are caught up in the world and its busyness, but must pause to behold God in His beauty and holiness. Martin Luther loved to remind us that the shepherds did not go into a monastery after telling their story, but went back to tending their sheep.

CHRISTMAS THROWS a shaft of light on our busyness and helps us understand what it means to love an be loved, and the true spirit of giving and receiving.

"She laid Him in a stall in Bethlehem The ass and oxen shared the roof with them. And thus the manger poor became a throne For He whom Mary bore Was God the Son. O come, then, Let us join The heavenly host, Venite, adoremus, Dominum O come, Let us adore Him; Christ, the Lord."

...By Hec!

For most of the past football season this column has advanced the premise that the local variety of football compared favorably with that produced elsewhere.

Not that the idea was particularly startling or even original. And truth to tell, we've never received much argument on the score.

Nevertheless, it's nice to get something that pretty much backs up the local feeling that our athletes compare with the best.

Of the 13 players named to All-Northern California first string, two are from the mid-county area.

Bill Staley of Las Lomas was chosen as the starting tackle.

Cecil Abono, the rugged end from Pittsburg, was selected as one of the flankers.

Both Staley and Abono won further honors, both making the All-Metropolitan first string. Joining these two on the All-Met was College Park's hard running back, Jim Chaney. Previously, Chaney had made the third string on the All-Northern California group.

A survey of the second string All-Met team discloses three additional central county representatives. Mike Arnold of Pacifica caught on as an end. Jerry Cook, All-CCD-center was named to that position. Rounding out the local contingent, Mike Schonmaker of Mt. Diablo was included in the backfield.

Considered on a per capita basis, this has to be regarded as excellent representation.

Now that Big Bill has the All Northern California selection, it would sure be great if Santa could drop an invitation to the Shrine North-South game in his Christmas stocking.

With the rash of basketball tournaments subsided, those that were involved with their operation should be congratulated for a job well done.

The Mid-Valley Classic played at Clayton High School performed to standing room only crowds.

The Del Valle clambake, while falling short of the hoped for gate, was nevertheless an artistic success.

The Mid-Valley, drawing primarily from local schools, appears to have the formula as regards drawing power. The drop-off in crowds at Del Valle is attributed largely to the distance involved for some of the competing schools.

However, tournament director Doug Pedersen, reported that he felt the tourney to be a success. "We were more concerned in bringing in teams that wouldn't normally face each other during the course of the season."

Pedersen added "we learned a great deal from this one, and think we can improve on it considerably next year."

At this point, it appears that the two tourney will stick with their respective formulas. Which is good.

With the periodic manhunt again underway to find a suitable coach to head the University of California grid fortunes, the local chapter of Old Blues seems only vaguely interested.

Or perhaps disenchanted would be more appropriate. It's safe enough to say that the sudden departure of Marv Levy didn't greatly upset Contra Costa Blues.

However, unlike previous years, there doesn't appear to be the urgent demand that one of the top names in the coaching world be brought in.

Local sentiment seems to favor Dick Stanfel, present assistant for the job.

There's only one drawback. Stanfel is too obviously the local choice for the job.

These things never work out that way.

Rams To Invade Sonora Tonight

As the Contra Cost Division of the DVAL prepares to close up shop for the Christmas vacation, both College Park and Pleasant Hill have unfinished business remaining. Pleasant Hill will journey to Sonora this evening to partake in a double header at the Sonora High School. Tonight the Rams vie with the host school. Tomorrow they will meet the Summerhill High School quintet.

College Park, seeking to end a three game losing streak, will invade Walnut Creek to meet Las Lomas this evening.

PLEASANT HILL continues to create a mild surprise in the cage world.

Eliminated by Mt. Diablo in close contest during the first round of the Mid-Valley Classic last week, the Rams came on to win the consolation round. To accomplish this, the Rams upset the strong College Park Falcons, 51-47. Against Ygnacio Valley, Pleasant Hill hung on to claim a 32-30 victory.

Running their current win streak to three, the Rams eased by the Alhambra Bulldogs, 45-37, Tuesday.

As they did throughout the tourney, Pleasant Hill came from a first half deficit against the Bulldogs to get the win. Trailing 17-16 at the intermission, Pleasant Hill took the lead in the third period and led, 34-27 at the three quarter mark. During the final stanza, Alhambra closed to within one point, but then fell off the pace.

PETE HALL and Mike Hayes led the scoring with 13 points each. Behind them, Mark Perrin and Keith Harris each hit for eight.

Little is known of a specific nature regarding the Rams' foe of this evening. Sonora is reported to be a fairly tall team and is reported to have compiled a favorable record thus far this year.

Going into the Mid-Valley bash last week, the Falcons boasted an unblemished record. Defeated in the first round by the eventual tourney winner, St. Mary's High of Berkeley, they were further jolted by neighboring Pleasant Hill.

RESUMING PLAY Yesterday, College Park was crushed by Miramonte, 74-51.

Coach Jack Bonnickson explained that part of the reversal of form on the part of his charges was due to personnel experimentation. Feeling that this is the time to get his lineup set, Bonnickson is searching for the right combinations.

However, College Park's All Leaguer, Roger Mower has continued to show to advantage. Even in the loss to Miramonte, he managed to mesh 23 points to gain a share of high point honors for the contest. Behind him, Bob Roberts pumped in nine.

The Falcons hope to regain their winning ways tonight when they meet Las Lomas. However, they can't afford to take anything for granted, as the Knights have made considerable progress during this practice season, and could prove to be a real handful.

Ticket Sale For Lucky Open Golf Tourney Starts

Tickets for the fourth annual Lucky International Open Golf Tournament, January 20-26 at Harding Park, are now on sale at Bay Area club and municipal golf course pro shops and sporting goods stores. Available are $10 season tickets and $25 coupon books.

The season tickets are for admission to the four days of the $50,000 PGA tournament, the $5,000 Pro-Am competition January 22, and the two-day pre-tourney practice and qualifying play.

The coupon books have 10 coupons which can be used at any time during the six days, including either Saturday or Sunday when individual admissions will cost $4.

In other words, if all 10 coupons were used on either of the final two days of PGA play, the savings would amount to $15.

Daily admission prices are the same as for the previous three Lucky Internationals—$2 Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, $3 Thursday and Friday, and $4 Saturday and Sunday.

Tournament net profits go to the Bay Area Easter Seal Societies for Crippled Children.

DAIRYING

Dairying is the largest single enterprise in American agriculture. Approximately 15 per cent of the gross income of farmers is from the sale of milk.

Small Harbors Plan Set For Early Distribution

The California Small Craft Harbors and Facilities Plan should be available for public distribution early in 1964. Lachlan M. (Lock) Richards, Chief, Division of Small Craft Harbors announced today.

This report has been in preparation for almost one and a half years by Leeds, Hill, and Jewett, Inc., Consulting Engineers of San Francisco, California.

"We expect this report to present new insights into the habits of the boating public and will serve as a basis for future development activities by the Division of Small Craft Harbors," Richards said.

The report will contain data on the supply and demand for boating facilities at the present time and as they are expected to exist in 1975.

During the course of the study, questionnaires were sent to more than 11,000 recreational and commercial boaters in California to determine the number of times they go boating. Questionnaires have also been sent to the public and private builders of boating facilities to determine the size of their facilities and their plans for enlargement or improvement over the next several years.

Results of these and other surveys have been used to determine the number of launching, berthing, and dry storage facilities which are required to meet the needs of recreational and commercial boaters. The needs for multiple-purpose harbors and harbors of refuge also have been determined.

Richards continued "boating is an increasingly popular recreation activity in California. The 1963 Legislature provided additional funds to the Division of Small Craft Harbors for providing facilities to serve the boating public throughout the State. This report will serve as a basis for planning and construction of these facilities to make the best possible use of the new funds."

Longer nights and lower temperatures mean you need more lights, use more heat, cook more hot meals, and watch more TV. Naturally, this increases your usage of gas and electricity and the size of your PG&E bill. But it might interest you to know that additional gas and electricity cost you less because they're "cheaper by the dozen".

PHSC's Bernie Stenson Ranked Fourth In U.S.

Fast-stroking Bernie Stenson of the Pleasant Hill Swim Club tied for fourth place in the individual boys division of the 1963 National A.A.U. swimming results.

As a 10 and under, he had six first places and one tie, plus placing among the nation's top five swimmers in thirteen other events.

He placed first in the 100 meter butterfly, 100 meter individual medley, 200 meter individual medley, 55 yard backstroke, 220 yard individual medley and established a new national record with a 1:09.6 in the 100 meter freestyle.

WITH THE outstanding performance of the 11-12 girls the Pleasant Hill Swim Club was ranked in a 12th place nationwide tie for the relay championship with four crack times. The team of Kathy Johnston and Nikki Jelonek accounted for three of these victories, with times of 2:10.1 in the 200 yard medley relay, 2:09.2 in the 200 meter freestyle relay and 2:23.7 in the 200 meter medley relay.

The local team under the direction of coach Ervin Zador had four swimmers who were responsible for establishing new national records along with Bernie Stenson, Mari Evans, in the 10 and under girl division, swam a 1:33.5 in the 100 meter breaststroke.

Harry Diaz and Jim Southward each cracked two old records. Diaz sped to a 2:20.7 in the 11-12 boys 200 yard individual medley and 1:02.0 in the 100 yard butterfly.

IN THE same age group Southward swam a 1:15.6 in the 110 yard backstroke and a 27.4 in the 50 yard butterfly.

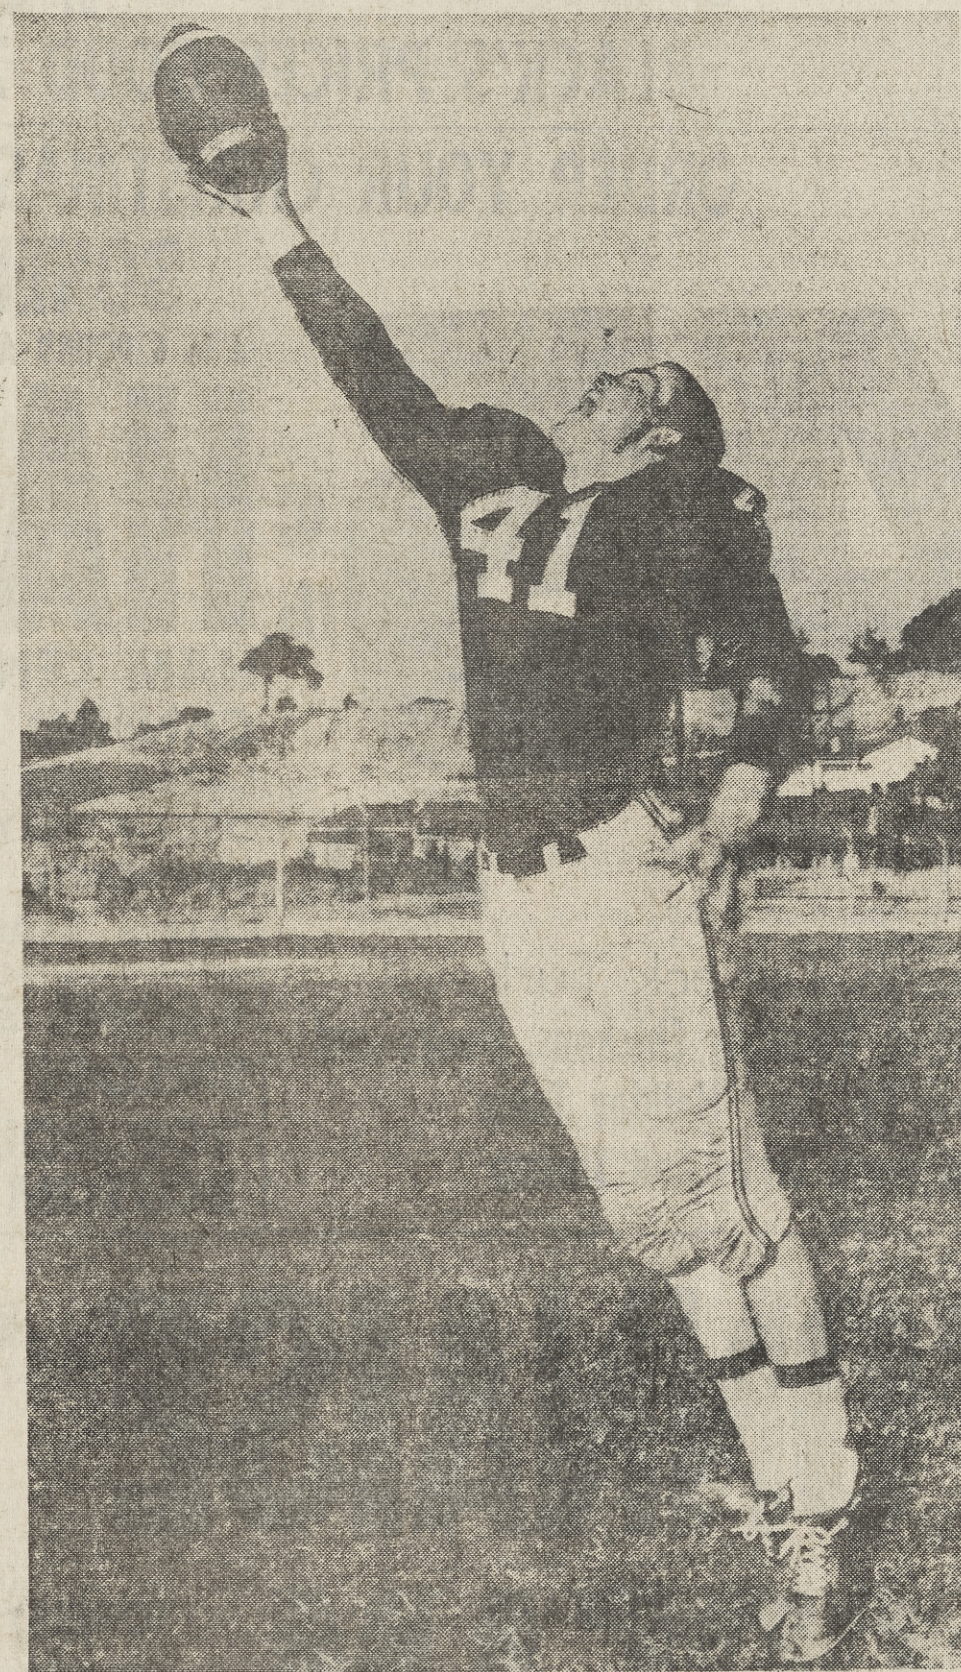

Kitty Stenson chalked up a 2:48.5 in the 15-17 girls 200 meter backstroke.

Other swimmers who received national recognition by placing in the top five in various individual and relay events during the 1963 season were Maureen Church, Camille Juarez, Ron Dadami, Dallas Hardy, Laurie Kilbuck, Rita Murphy, Cynthia Fabian, Cal Percy, Nancy Spitz, Michael Jelonek, Susan Paganini, Nancy Caldwell, Gibby Johnston, Tim Jolly, Keith Sloan, and George Hall and Mark Spitz swimming unattached with the team.

During the month of December the club members are taking a much deserved rest, but with the New Year, will resume their training program. The first scheduled meet is the Alameda Naval Air Station Invitational in early February with all competitors eager to splash their way to new victory marks in the 1964 swim season.

Rick Miles, Ex-Knight, Named Top Grid Athlete By Nevada Wolfpack

Rick Miles—Top Nevada Gridder

By HEC HANCOCK

Spinning around on a plaster of paris cast that encased his foot, he looked for all the world like the young football hero home from the grid wars.

And while Rick Miles is a grid star at the University of Nevada and the recipient of several recent awards, it would still be misleading to create the impression that his wounds stemmed from the physical combat of the gridiron.

Actually, the ligament damage he recently incurred in his foot happened in such a lack luster activity as playing basketball in phys ed.

BUT then that's been sort of characteristic of the mercenary fortunes of the former Las Vegas gridder.

Rick seems to be forever suffering frustrating minor setbacks. But when the chips are down, he always manages to come out on top.

Rick just completed his collegiate grid career at the University of Nevada. Caping his three years of varsity play, he was voted the Football Athlete of the Year at the Reno school for his play at end.

Miles, a physical education major, caught a total of 29 passes thrown his way during the season. In all, he accounted for 323 yards of the advances the Wolfpack made against opposing grid squads.

HOWEVER, the really amazing thing isn't the total receptions, but the fact that he missed only one aerial directed his way during the entire season. That's a pretty fair batting average, 29 for 30.

Just how big a favorite he was for Wolfpack passers can be seen from the fact that he caught only eight less passes than the accumulated total of the rest of the team.

A rugged 195 pounder, Miles made the short, "bread and butter" pass his specialty. Not noted for his speed, he managed to consistently work himself free.

Quoting from the University of Nevada Sagebrush, "Miles caught 29 this year for 323 yards, an average of 11.1 yards per reception. This is especially remarkable since he's regarded as the slowest end on the squad and possibly the whole conference."

Fleet of foot or not, Rick gained further honors, being named to the second string All-Far Western Conference team.

Since his Las Vegas days, Rick has added to his athletic repertoire. Last spring he tried his hand with the javelin for the first time. Before the end of season he had a best throw of 190 feet, a respectable heave in any league.

Presently he is spending the holidays with his parents, Mrs. and Mrs. William Sumner at 256 Sierra Drive, Walnut Creek. At the same time he's bracing for the final academic push that will carry him to graduation next June.

Rick hopes to receive a commission in the regular Army and serve a duty tour in Europe.

And with Miles on the line, it's re-assuring to know that he always manages to get the "big one" accomplished.

Whitman Grid Trophy Awarded To Bill Hilger

Bill Hilger of Orinda made it two in a row for the Hilger family when he won Whitman College's most coveted football award, the Royal F. Niles Trophy.

This marks the second consecutive year that the name Hilger has been inscribed on the trophy. In 1962, Bruce Hilger, Bill's older brother was named to the award.

Bruce Hilger is now attending medical school at Northwestern University.

BILL HILGER is a junior halfback at the Walla Walla, Washington school, and will return for another grid season.

Dean Hilger, a third brother was a varsity performer for Diablo Valley College during the past year. He is currently a mainstay on the Vix wrestling squad.

All three brothers were named All-FAL while performing for Miramonte High School.

Giants To Hold Coaches Clinic

In association with the California Baseball Coaches' Association, the San Francisco Giants will conduct for the area coaches only, a one day baseball clinic at Candlestick Park on January 4, 1964.

An invitation has been extended to all the High School and College coaches in the area, as well as the coaches of the Babe Ruth League, P.A.L. and Little League Teams.

A COMPREHENSIVE all-day program has been arranged, divided into two sessions. Hank Sauer, Jim Davenport, Tom Haller and Edie Montague will conduct the morning program. Hitting, infield play and catching will be the discussion topics.

Manager Al Dark, Farm Director Carl Hubbell, "Cookie" Lavagetto, the Giants' new coach, and Walter Mails of the Giants' staff will also participate in the program.

THE HIGH school coaches themselves will preside at the afternoon session. Con Dempsey, the former San Francisco Seal and major league pitching star, and now the coach at A.P. Giannini Junior High School, and Harvey Christenson, the coach at Lincoln High School, will discuss high school play and attendant coaching procedures.

Babe Pinelli will also be a guest lecturer, with Umpires and Umpiring his topic.

Michelson Hot

Steve Michelson, six foot Las Vegas senior, had a big week for himself as he practically rewrote the Knight record book.

To start things off he pumped a total of 33 points in against Logan High in the A' major Tourney. This erased the Las Vegas school record of 27 for a single game held jointly by Tom and Bob Nichols.

He then set a two game record for the tourney, hitting for 53 points.

His total of 29 field goals for the three games is also a new standard.

Michelson continued his torrid pace against Hayward, hitting for 30.

He has now scored 140 points in seven games for a 20 point average per game, one of the highest in the bay area.

Aquabear Shatter 14 Team Marks In Challenge Meet

Fourteen new team records were set and one tied at the annual Aquabear Team Challenge Swim Meet held last Saturday at the Miramonte High School 25-yard outdoor pool. Seventy-five swimmers from the local AAU age group swim team participated in the meet.

The Aquabear team, many of whose swimmers are ranked nationally, has been training since mid October for the coming swim season which starts in January. Interest this coming year in AAU age group swimming will be particularly keen due to the Olympics.

OUTSTANDING performers and record breakers in the meet were:

8 and under girls—Sandy Olson, Orinda, 25-yard butterfly 17.2 sec.; 25-yard breaststroke 19.3 sec. Janie Schnugg, Orinda, 25-yard freestyle 16 sec. flat.

10 and under girls—Debbie Pedersen, Lafayette, 50-yard breaststroke 43.5; 100-yard individual medley 1:23.2.

Ski Lines

With a white Christmas assured the Sierra ski spas, the resort operator began preparing for the big two "rush."

Despite the fact that Christmas and New Year's fall on Wednesday this year, one of the biggest two week's in the history of the Sierra loop is anticipated.

In fact the big rush is already on. Some of the colleges closed their ivy clad doors for the Christmas break thus freeing a multitude of students to sample the joys of an Alpine respite.

A WORD to the wise is to make sure of your reservations at Sierra resorts. Don't get so caught up in the Christmas rush that you get hung up without a bunk.

Ready, willing and able. That's Heavenly Valley's answer to the annual two-week "Big Rush" to the snow country that starts this weekend.

"We're as set as we will ever be for the holidays," reports Wally Rothgeb, general manager of the Bijou winter playgrounds.

The conditions are good and we have plenty of packed powder on the upper lifts for the beginner, intermediate and expert skier."

While Heavenly Valley had gone without any new snow for six days through last Monday, the snow that arrived through earlier storms was holding up well.

"We've been having some fairly cold nights recently and the pack on lifts No. 1 and 3 have remained almost unchanged for the past week," adds Rothgeb.

DURING the next two holiday weeks Heavenly Valley will begin operating its three chair lifts and new aerial tramway a half-hour earlier than usual. The four lifts will begin running at 8:30 a.m.

ECHO Summit on US Highway 50 will start daily operation Monday and will continue to January 5.

Over two feet of packed powder are reported on the slope.

Three rope tows and a platter pull will be operating.

Sherman Divers Fare Favorably In Athens Meet

Sherman Swim School divers continued their domination of Bay Area diving with a strong showing in the recent Athens Athletic Club meet.

While no official score was kept on the meet, the Sherman entries walked off with most of the honors. This continued the trend established last summer when the Sherman team was undefeated in diving competition.

The Athens meet is one of several conducted during the off-season.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The virgin birth of Christ Jesus will be explained in this Sunday's Bible Lesson at all Christian Science churches. The Lesson-Sermon is entitled: "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"

Services are held at the following Christian Science branch churches:

ORINDA: 22 Orinda Way, Sundays at 9:30 and 11 a.m. and Wednesdays at 8:00 p.m. Sunday School is at 9:30 and 11:00 a.m. Child care is provided at all services.

LAFAYETTE: 3422 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Sundays at 11:00 a.m. and Wednesdays at 8:00 p.m. Sunday School convenes at 11:00 a.m. Child care is provided during the Sunday morning service.

WALNUT CREEK: 2 Eckley Lane, Sundays at 9:30 and 11:00 a.m. and Wednesdays at 8:00 p.m. Sunday School is at 9:30 and 11:00 a.m. Care for infants and small children is provided at all services.

PLEASANT HILL: Kahrs Avenue and Boyd Road, Sundays at 11:00 a.m. and Wednesdays at 8:00 p.m. Sunday School convenes at 9:15 a.m.

Subject of this week's radio program, "The Bible Speaks To You," heard Sundays at 10 a.m. over Station KGO, is "What Is Christmas?"

FREE EVANGICAL

Pastor Melvin C. Stone will speak at the 11 a.m. service at the Evangelical Free Church, 2400 Ygnacio Valley Road, on the subject, "A Virgin Shall conceive, and Bear a Son." At 7 p.m., the church choir will present the cantata, "Night of Miracles" by John Peterson.

The Sunday School hour is at 9:45 a.m. with classes arranged for the whole family, including three adult Bible classes. During the 11 a.m. service there is also a primary and beginners church. Nursery is provided for small children in all services.

On December 25th, we will meet for our Annual Christmas Day service when the choir will sing plus other instrumental and vocal numbers and the sermon by the Pastor on the subject, "The True Meaning of Christmas."

UNITARIAN

The Mount Diablo Unitarian Church will hold a special all Church family party and program, 4 p.m. Sunday at Diablo Valley College. Robin King will do a chalk talk in response to children's statements on "Christmas is to me..." There will also be special music, both vocal and instrumental.

Nor services or Church School classes will be held that morning.

LUTHERAN

Worship services will be held at 8:30 and 10 a.m. on December 22, the Fourth Sunday in Advent, at St. Luke's Lutheran Church in Walnut Creek. The Rev. David H. Romeis, pastor, will preach at both services. The Adult Choir will sing "Christmas Hymn" (Jungst) at the 10 o'clock service, under the direction of Richard Hansen. Nursery care is available at both services. Sunday Church School meets at 8:30 a.m. for 6th, 7th, and 8th grades, with all other classes meeting at 10 a.m. The Luther League will not meet for a regular meeting on Sunday night, but instead will gather on Monday evening for their annual Christmas caroling.

The following Christmas program and services are scheduled at St. Luke's:

Sunday—4 p.m.—Sunday Church School Program—(Pre-School thru 3rd Grade) 7:30 p.m.—"The Lights of Christmas (4th Grade thru Senior Class) "The Shiniest Star of Bethlehem"

Tuesday—7 p.m.—Family Candlelight Service 11 p.m.—Candlelight service

Christmas Day Service 10 a.m.—Festival Service of Worship with Holy Communion (Special Choir Music)

PRESBYTERIAN

"Christmas Is For Hope" will be the sermon topic of the Rev. James M. Crothes at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Pleasant Hill, on Sunday at the 9 and the 11 a.m. services.

The earlier service is a family service followed by classes for all age groups. The 11 o'clock service is accompanied by classes through the eighth grade. There is infant care at both times.

The Kirk Choir under the direction of Dr. John Lewis will sing at the 11 o'clock service.

Special Evening Service

A carol service by our Kirk Choir under the direction of Dr. John Lewis, with Gordon Keddington at the organ, will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday. We cordially invite the public to attend this service of Christmas music.

FREE METHODIST

"Where is He That is Born King?" is the title of the Christmas sermon to be given by the Rev. Glen Moore in the Pleasant Hill Free Methodist Church at Taylor Boulevard and North Pleasant Hill Road. The time of the Worship Service is 11 a.m. preceded at 9:45 a.m. by the Sunday school hour.

The Annual Christmas Program will be given by the Sunday School at 7 p.m. and the public is invited to attend.

BAPTIST

The Rev. Louie T. Rhoden will bring the 11 a.m. message at the First Baptist Church, 132 Gregory Lane, Pleasant Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hageman will direct Junior Church at 11 a.m. Sunday School classes for all ages begin at 9:45 a.m. Young Peoples meeting for junior high and high school ages will meet at 6 p.m.

The Sunday School will present the annual program, "Gods Trees" the entire Sunday School will participate in this program at the 7 p.m. evening service. Nursery will be provided at all services.

LAFAYETTE ASSEMBLY

The annual Sunday School Christmas program of the Lafayette Assembly of God Church will be presented to night at 7:30.

Rev. Glen Lambert's Sunday message will be entitled "The Savior's Star." The worship service starts at 11 a.m. The choir will sing a special arrangement of "Joy to the World."

Sunday School starts at 9:45 with graded classes for all. At 6 p.m. Sunday the youth of the church will meet for a special youth service in the fellowship hall.

At 7 p.m. Pastor Lambert will present a service using "A Just and Lasting Peace" for a theme. The public is invited.

Baptist

"Born a King," a Christmas Cantata, will be presented by Betty Jo McPhee and the Youth for Christ Choir at Grace Baptist Church of Walnut Creek, 1347 Locust St., Sunday from 11 p.m. until midnight. The public is invited to attend.

The cantata will follow a program which commences with a 7 p.m. Christmas Play, featuring the Sunday school children. Next will be a Singing, to which seven Conservative Baptist Churches of Contra Costa County have been invited. Refreshments will be served preceding the Cantata.

The morning service at 11 a.m., "All I Want for Christmas" will be delivered by the Rev. Bruce Parker. Sunday school for all ages is held at 9:45 a.m.

METHODIST

The Walnut Creek Methodist Church will hold services at 8, 9, and 11 a.m. Sunday. Dr. Ernest J. Troutner will speak on "He Came That We Might See God." Church school classes will be held at 9 a.m. for nursery age through 6th grade, and at 9:50 for junior high through adults. Church school classes at 11 a.m. will be held for nursery age through 8th grade.

A service of baptism will be held at 3:30. Family Camp reunion at 4, and MYF and Wesley Fellowship at 7.

Activities for the week will include: Christmas Eve Candlelight Service at 11 p.m. Tuesday; meeting of students who are participating in student recognition day services, Friday, at 7:30 p.m.

EPISCOPAL

"Oh Christmas Trees in Bethlehem" will be the sermon topic at 11 p.m. Christmas Eve services conducted by the Rev. Richard Shackell, Vicar of the Church of the Resurrection. Holy Communion will be celebrated.

Christmas day the service will be held at 10 a.m. only. Holy Communion will be celebrated.

CHRISTMAS SINGERS — Practising for Sunday performances of Handel's "Messiah" are these members of the Chancel Choir of the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church. Under the direction of E. Michael Livingston, the group will perform at 9:30 and 11 a.m. services and at a 11 p.m. vesper service on Christmas Eve these singers will join with a Westminster Choral from the church. The combined group will sing "The Christmas Story," a cantata written by Ron Nelson. This is one of many choral groups in the area which will present special Christmas programs.

Church Groups Present Messiah

Five churches of central Contra Costa County will join forces to present Handel's "Messiah" Sunday evening, at 7:30 p.m. at the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church.

This presentation will be based on the original performance given at Dublin in 1742 with Handel conducting from the harpsichord. The recitatives and arias will be accompanied by string orchestra and the choruses will be accompanied by orchestra and organ.

Soloists include Harold Oxen, tenor; Barbara Harrison, contralto; Rod Palmer, bass; and Fran Eitzel, Betty Holzwarth, and Janet Walker, sopranos. Rosslyn Thorp will play the cello continuo.

The fifty voices of the chorus represents the Sanctuary Choir of the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church with choir members from St. Paul's and St. John's Episcopal Churches and Concord Presbyterian and Methodist Churches.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited.

MORAGA BAPTIST

Rev. Jack Sondericker and members of the Moraga Hills Baptist Church extend a cordial invitation to all Protestants in the area who do not have local church affiliation to worship at the Moraga Hills church this Christmas season.

Morning services start at 11 a.m. Sunday and Sunday School for all ages is held at 9:45 a.m.

Church School Stages Program

The Christian Education Department of Grace Presbyterian Church will present its annual Christmas program Sunday evening at 7 p.m. in the Sanctuary of the Church, 2100 Tice Valley Boulevard Church School children and youth from the primary department through the senior high department will participate in presenting "A Miracle Is Christmas" to families and friends.

The Introit will be sung by a male quartette; the primary department children will present the tableau; the junior department will sing "What Child Is This;" the junior high department will give a union reading from the Old Testament; and the senior highs will offer a choral reading from the New Testament.

Familiar Christmas hymns and carols will be sung by the congregation during the evening and a flute duet will also be offered.

UNITARIAN

Mount Diablo Unitarian Church will hold a special, all Church family party and program at 4 p.m. Sunday at Diablo Valley College.

Robin King will do a chalk talk in response to children's statements on "Christmas is to me..." There will also be special music, both vocal and instrumental.

Election Of '64 Officers

At their December meeting, the City-County Planners' Association of Contra Costa County elected Lester R. Foley as 1964 Director of Planning for the City of Walnut Creek.

The City-County Planners' Association of Contra Costa County is an organization of professional planning personnel, and others engaged in responsible planning activity, of public agencies and jurisdictions within Contra Costa County.

Lester R. Foley succeeds Anthony A. Dehaes of the County Planning Department. Other officers elected were Anthony Corso of the City of Richmond Planning Department, vice-president; Gary Chase of the City of Concord Planning Department, secretary-treasurer; and Charles Woodward of the City of Richmond Planning Department, member-at-large.

License Needed For Motorboats Used for Hire

An extra safety factor will be accorded next year to Californians who hire boats with an operator to travel the State's waterways.

Effective January 1, 1964, all motorboat operators carrying three or more passengers for hire will have to be licensed. The law will also affect operators of boats with more than three passengers, towing water skiers for a fee, whether in the boat or being towed on water skis.

This new regulation adopted by the 1963 Legislature makes failure to carry a proper license under these conditions a misdemeanor.

LACHLAN M. Richards, Chief of the Division of Small Craft Harbors, said the licensing program extends to all State waters the same protection the Coast Guard has provided boat passengers on U. S. navigable waters for many years.

Richards said to qualify for a license under the new law, an applicant must be at least 18 years old, have one year's experience or its equivalent in operation of boats pass a written test on boating laws and safety measures, and furnish a medical report and other evidence of his competence to operate vessels safely. Boat operators have until April 1, 1964 to obtain licenses.

Holders of Coast Guard licenses who plan to operate passenger-carrying vessels on State waters, not under Federal regulation, will have to obtain a State license to comply with the law. Holders of such license would not normally require further examination. Details and application forms may be obtained from the Division of Small Craft Harbors, State Office Building No. 1, Sacramento.

PT&T Pays County Tax

The State's largest taxpayer recently made out a check to Contra Costa County.

Pacific Telephone paid $1,427,440.14 to various city and county treasuries in Contra Costa County as first installment on its $2,800,296.25 and valorem tax bill for 1963-64. The company's next installment is due in April.

Largest portion of the payment was a $1,305,626.42 check presented to the County as the Phone Company's property tax bill for general county, school and special district purposes.

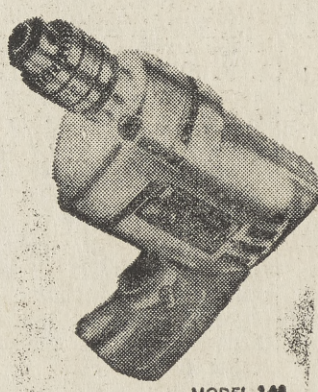

That included taxes for Martinez, and Walnut Creek.

Meteor

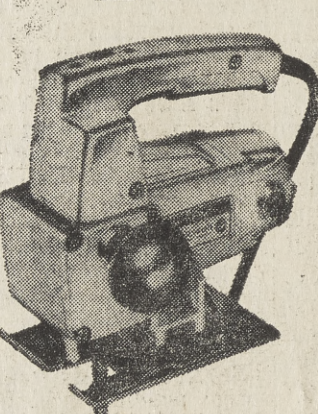

The Ahnighito meteor, brought back from western Greenland in 1895 by Admiral Peary, weighs 36½ tons, or 73,000 pounds.

Santa Watches: Thieves Escape

The Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce has staged another first—the first time the office has been robbed.

Sick Count Increases

Reported communicable diseases during November were slightly higher than for the month a year ago according to county Health Department figures issued this week by Dr. H. L. Blum, Health officer. Totals are 297 for this year, 281, for last.

Mumps again lead the parade with 144 cases reported. There were 63 reported cases of gonorrhea; 24 strep infection; 23 measles; 20 syphilis; 8 tuberculosis. There were no cases of polio.

Reported cases of communicable diseases for the period ending November 30 totaled 3465. This compares with 2680 for the same period last year.

Sometime late Monday night or early Tuesday morning, a thief, or thieves, cut out the screen and pried open the window of one of the restrooms to gain entrance.

The loot consisted of from four to five dollars in cash and a number of peppermint candy canes — the ones Santa has been giving out to all the children.

And this crime was committed right under the watchful eye of the electrically lighted Santa Claus in the CoC lobby. He must have said nothing.

DVC Shows Star Special

The Christmas Star, the annual gift of Diablo Valley College to the community, will continue its showings in the DVC Science Center planetarium through December 29.

Roy Stoddard, astronomy instructor and planetarium director will narrate the story of the skies of the East 2000 years ago. The Star of Bethlehem's appearance on the night of the birth of Christ is told through the wonders of astronomy and music which accompany Stoddard's lecture.

The programs are free to the public, although reservations are urged due to the limited seating capacity of the planetarium. Many parents bring their children.

Shows are given every Friday, Saturday and Sunday, both afternoons and evenings. Dates and times of the remaining shows are as follows:

Badger Elected Group President

H. J. Badger of Martinez was elected president of the 23rd District Agricultural Association at a recent meeting of the association's board of directors.

Girls Will Carol In Three Groups

Approximately 400 Girl Scouts from the Buenas Vecinas neighborhood will carol in downtown Lafayette from 2 to 3 p.m. tomorrow, according to a report from council spokesmen.

The 18 troops of Brownies, Juniors and Cadettes will be divided into three groups which will sing in the new Lafayette Shopping Plaza, the Lafayette park and the corner of Mt. Diablo Boulevard and the La Fiesta shopping square.

After the performance the girls will be treated to hot chocolate and doughnuts supplied by the Chamber of Commerce.

Three Orindans Named to Posts On United Fund

Three Orinda residents will be filling responsible posts with the Alameda County United Fund in 1964, it was announced recently at the fund-raising organization's annual meeting.

Dr. Kent Friel (55 Bobolink Road) was elected to the United Fund's 50-member, policy-making Executive Committee. Dr. Friel, Oakland Evening High School principal, has been active with the United Crusade and its agencies since 1957. He has served on the United Fund in 1964, it was an committee for the past three years.

ELECTED TO the Board of Governors were Edgar B. Stewart (36 Los Altos Road) and Clifford R. Hayden (41 Tara Road), both long-time United Crusade volunteer leaders.

Another key post went to Elmo A. Mazzera (2 Donald Place, Moraga), prominent East Bay civic leader and vice-president of the Bank of America, Oakland. Mazzera, who is this year's United Crusade Campaign Chairman in Alameda County, was re-elected to the Executive Committee and Board of Governors. He will also fill the post of Treasurer with ACUF in 1964.

MAZZERA was honored at the meeting for the outstanding leadership he has given the current fund drive. Under his chairmanship, the 1963 Crusade drive in Alameda County is now at 99.4 percent of the $1,883,000 goal, representing an increase of 5.4 percent, or nearly $100,000 over last year.

Four Judges Selected For Decorating Contest

Judging will be done Monday, according to Lyles Pembel, chairman of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce's decorating contest committee.

PRIZES WILL be awarded to the first through fifth place winners in each category. The prizes will be contributed by local merchants.

Contest categories are: best theme depicting an old-fashioned Christmas; best religious theme; best story-book or "land of make believe" theme.

Two local volunteers, Coy Jarvis and John Sousa, will drive the judges through the areas which have been decorated for the contest.

The annual event is co-sponsored by the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce and The Sun.

Winners will be announced January 3, 1964.

Key factors in food selection of Americans during the next 10 years will be calories, quality and convenience, predicts New York economist, Dr. Arno H. Johnson.

Q SPEED QUEEN.
If you want a dependable, "work horse" automatic — and at the same time save money — here's your machine. The mechanical design is the same as the highest priced Speed Queen models. You can depend on the same faithful, low cost service that built Speed Queen's reputation for dependability. This model A 37, with 12lb. capacity tub, will give you more washer per dollar than any other machine in America today. You can prove it to yourself by merely making comparisons. Remember, it's what's inside that counts!

More Parking

A sizeable increase in parking facilities in the Broadway Shopping Center has been made possible by the opening of the new double-deck parking structure in the Center. Entry to the upper deck may be made on the "up" ramp on South Main Street and on the "two-way" ramp on Broadway. The second ramp on South Main Street is for exit only.

ACCORDING TO Chuck Richards of MacDonald Products Company, managers of the Center, all ramps are in use. He cautions, however, that from time to time there may be short temporary closures for further construction. "These closures will be very brief," he said, "and should not interrupt or interfere with traffic."

"—AND THEN THIS GIANT SPILLED THE BUBBLE-BATH IN THE TUB!"

Convenient stairways for pedestrians lead from the upper deck. In the next few days, when the final section of the upper deck is completed, there will also be a pedestrian ramp for the convenience of customers with baby strollers.

THE BROADWAY Shopping Center parking structure is unique in this area in that it is a double-decker. An interesting feature is that pre-stressed concrete was used in the construction of the deck.

The stores along the west side of Broadway are nearly completed, Richards said, and should be occupied early in 1964. Stores abutting the parking structure will have rear door customer entrances from both levels.

Occupants of the new store units will include Roos Atkins; Kladezee, Leed's, Grodins, Birdie's, Sandra Joy and Taylor Luggage.

Baby Sitters Should Be Ready In Case of Fire

Baby sitters who know what to do in case of fire or other emergency can make your Christmas a merrier one.

The possibility of a Christmas tree fire always adds to the responsibilities of a baby sitter and should be of special concern at this time of year.

WHEN SHE comes into your home, at any time of year, you can give her a hand by providing her with phone numbers she might have to use quickly.

County To Buy Station Site

The County Board of Supervisors recently voted to purchase a parcel of land in Pleasant Hill for a fire station for the Central County Fire Protection District.

The land is on the northeast corner of Geary Road and Dorothy Drive, and is owned by Rene A. Chesselet. Purchase price is $9000.

FAMILY FOOD

Fresh milk is used by 97 per cent of all U.S. families, according to a national survey by Ford Sammis & Company, marketing economists.

Place a card beside the phone with the phone numbers of (1) the fire department, (2) the police department, (3) the family doctor, (4) the number of the phone where the parents may be reached, and (5) the phone number of a nearby neighbor.

1. THE NATIONAL Board of Fire Underwriters gives these other suggestions:

1. Employ a sitter you know. Be sure she knows her job, is responsible, and likes children.

2. Employ a sitter your children will enjoy being with and let her get acquainted with them before you leave. If you have pets, let her get acquainted with them, too.

3. Make sure the sitter clearly understands that in case of fire, she should get the children out of the house quickly.

4. Show the sitter two alternate routes of escape from the house so that if one is blocked by fire, she and the children can use the other one.

5. Supply the sitter with flashlights to use in case of power failure.

6. When you leave, tell the sitter when you are planning to return home. Telephone her if you are delayed.

7. Always make arrangements for seeing the sitter home.

Men Get United Fund Posts

Seven Lafayette residents were elected to key posts in the Alameda County United Fund Tuesday at the organization's annual meeting held at the Claremont Hotel, Berkeley.

The position of public relations committee chairman in the 1964 United Crusade campaign will be filled by John H. Plumb, Lafayette.

Plumb, who is assistant secretary of East Bay Water, was also named a vice-president of United Fund and he will serve on the policy-making executive committee.

A STRONG Crusade volunteer leader, Plumb served as public relations committee vice - chairman this year and assumed the duties of chairman in August when his predecessor, Martin Huff, moved to Sacramento.

Plumb has been active in the United Crusade's public relations cabinet since 1960 and was named press chairman in 1962.

Other Lafayette residents elected at Tuesday's meeting were: W. F. Funk and William Towers.

NAMED to the 100-member board of governors were: C. F. (Bud) Dailey, Jack Kilmartin, F. Carl Merner and Wilson Young.

Top man in the 1964 United Crusade program will be Frederick L. Greenlee, Oakland, president.

Greenlee was campaign chairman in 1962 and served as senior vice-president this year.

Named to lead the fund drive as campaign chairman next year was John Suggen, manager of Kellogg Co., San Leandro. Arthur J. Melka, president of the United Fund this year, was elevated to chairman of the Board, while former United States Senator William F. Knowland was named senior vice-president.

Keep Fires Out Of Store Areas

Proprietors of the nation's retail stores were urged today to observe special precautions to keep their stores firesafe during the busy Christmas shopping season.

By following simple precautions, the possibility of fire in stores crowded with shoppers can be kept at a minimum, the National Board of Fire Underwriters said.

Fire Safety Tips The National Board made these suggestions:

Enforce smoking rules. Smoking by both the public and employees should be prohibited on the selling floors, and restricted to specially designated areas.

AS COUNTERS and shelves are stocked with fresh merchandise, empty paper cartons and boxes should be removed from selling floors immediately, and disposed of the same day.

Store decorations should be made of non-flammable or fire-resistant materials, and care should be taken to keep them away from electric light bulbs.

All aisles on selling floors and regular and emergency exits should be kept clear of stock, hand trucks and other obstructions to permit quick evacuation if a fire alarm sounds.

Play Written By Orinda Man Due On TV Show

"Denny Buries the Dino-saur," an original half-hour teleplay which won a first place and $300 cash award for an Orinda resident, will be seen on KRON-TV channel 4 at 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

Walter De Faria of the Lafayette Dramateurs wrote the play in a recent scriptwriting contest sponsored by KRON-TV. The play was produced in the company's San Francisco studio.

THE PLAY has been scheduled for Christmas holiday season viewing by young and old, spokesmen for the television firm said.

A whimsical fantasy involving an old man and a boy, the half-hour show will feature Harry Rasmussen in the adult role and Randy Kasten, son of the George W. Kastens as the child.

New Merit Badge Offered Scouts

The Mt. Diablo Council, Boy Scouts of America, with headquarters in Berkeley, announced today that all Second and First Class Boy Scouts and Explorers are now eligible to earn the atomic energy merit badge — the 105th in the series.

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, himself a former Life Scout, with 25 merit badges, (and former member of Committee of Troop 223, Lafayette) recently took part in a ceremony in New York when he honored 34 Boy Scouts and Explorers of four states who were the first to qualify for the new merit badge.

REQUIREMENTS for the new atomic energy merit badge were developed by a committee of experts who began work on them in De Faria competed with little theater group authors from throughout the Bay Area in winning the first place award.

Mrs. Lyons Is Honored Upon Retirement

Mrs. Elsie Lyons recently retired after 13 years Federal Service.

Mrs. Lyons and her husband, Frank, a retiree of the Pepsi Cola Company live at 251 Overhill Road, Orinda.

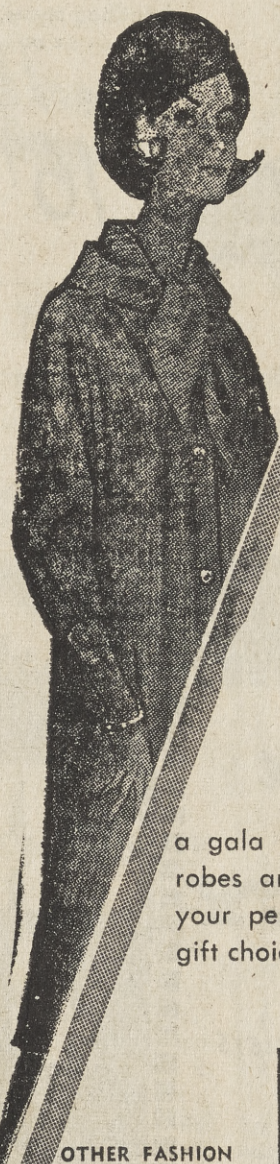

Mrs. Lyons, born in New York City, is a graduate of Mt. Vernon, New York High School and Merchants and Bankers Business College in New York City.

Mrs. Lyons was employed as an administrative assistant to the chief of purchasing division, headquarters, Oakland region, defense subsistence supply center, Alameda.

Light Opera Group Adds 'Professional' Director

The Diablo Light Opera Company of Walnut Creek has secured the services of a professional man of the theatre as one of its new directors.

Chris Ryan, of San Francisco, will have the task of dramatic director for the company's forthcoming production of the perennial favorite "Finian's Rainbow".

Choose Safe Toy For Children

Make your Christmas a merry one for your children by buying only toys which are safe, the National Board of Fire Underwriters urges.

Do not buy toys which could cause fire, shock or explosion, the Board adds.

Small children should not be permitted to play unattended with toy space vehicles, airplanes, automobiles, or other toys that use kerosene, gasoline, carbide or hydrogen peroxide for fuels.

Parents or other responsible adults should be around when children play with electrical toys, chemical sets or kits using chemicals or electricity.

Ryan's professional career began in summer stock in Laguna Beach, California.

He has been stage manager for Lewis & Youngs Music Circus, which has long been entertaining Sacramento audiences. Most recently he has been associated with the Sheraton-Palace "Garden Court Dinner Theatre", one of San Francisco's most lavish night spots.

James Schwartz, of Concord, returns as musical director. Jim, director of the choral department of Las Lomas High School in Walnut Creek, has been with the Diablo Light Opera Company since its inception in 1959, and has directed the chorus and the orchestra for most of the company's productions.

Rhoda (Mrs. Stu) Klitsner also returns to handle the choreography, a job she has done admirably in the group's past productions of "Brigadoon," "Most Happy Fella," and "Pirates of Penzance." After appearing in a number of New York musical productions, Rhoda returned to live in her native California. She, her husband, and three children live in Walnut Creek. "Finian's Rainbow" is currently in production and will be presented early in 1964.

Committee Considers Adoption

Members of the Contra Costa County Citizens Advisory Committee on Adoption met recently to learn of the current activities of the California Citizens Committee on Adoption.

Special guest speaker at this meeting was Jeanne Jewett, director, who outlined the committee's aims and work in the field of adoption throughout the state.

Other guests at this meeting were Mrs. James Campbell and Mrs. June Hogan, members of the Alameda County Committee on Adoption; Hadley Hall, supervisor of adoptions in the Solano County Social Welfare Department; and Mrs. Henderson, a member of the Adoptive Mothers Club of Benicia.

Voted to membership in the group at this meeting were Mrs. Troy Grove of Pleasant Hill, Chief E. A. Carlson of the Antioch Police Department, Mr. Ben Goldberger of Pittsburg, Mrs. Napoleon Dixon of Richmond, Mr. Donald Clute of El Cerrito and Mr. Clifford Egan of Walnut Creek.

Other members of the committee include Mr. Harry Lohstroh, chairman, attorney of Pleasant Hill; Hazel Bearss, child welfare supervisor for the Contra Costa County Social Welfare Department; Muriel Nelson, Ruth Vaughn and Mrs. Inez Williams, supervisors in the Contra Costa County Adoption Section.

Mrs. Richard Bartle of Orinda; Reverend Robert Findley, librarian, in the county school department; Clinton Ingram, principal of Pleasant Hill School; Mrs. Jack Lynch of Pleasant Hill; Mrs. David McClintic of Concord, Monsignor John T. McCracken, executive director of Catholic Social Service in Pleasant Hill.

Reverend Williams Mays, minister of Walnut Creek; Dr. Leland E. Noll, physician of Concord; Mrs. James Osterstein of Walnut Creek; Dr. Yoshiye Togasaka, assistant health officer, maternal and child health, County Health Department; Mrs. Frank Sabeck and Mrs. Paul Allen, Diablo Adoption Auxiliary President, of Walnut Creek.

Committee members welcome questions regarding adoption procedures in this county. Information may be obtained by calling the Adoption Section.

Miller Elected LIA Secretary

Robert J. Miller of Lafayette was recently elected secretary of the Lafayette Improvement Association, according to association officials.

Miller replaces Dr. David J. Allee who has resigned after accepting a position at Cornell University.

The new secretary, a chemist for California Research Corporation, has lived in Lafayette since 1951.

Dr. Allee is leaving the University of California where he has been a professor of agricultural economics for the past four years. Allee taught at Cornell prior to moving to Lafayette.

Allee served during the past two years on the Lafayette association's zoning committee. He also represented the association on the Lafayette General Plan study committee and the gas station study committee.

In the future the Lafayette Improvement Association's representative on both study committees will be Theron Nelson, immediate past president of the association and presently chairman of the group's zoning committee.

Others Need Our Help

The Christmas shopping season is at its peak, with a wealth of gifts for our selection. As we go about the happy task of remembering those dear to us, CARE asks us also to remember those who have nothing — the millions of people across the world who do not even have enough to eat.

Through its Food Crusade now underway, CARE appeals to Americans to send 6,000,000 packages, at $1 per package, to the needy and destitute on four continents. Foods are mainly U.S. donations of farm abundance.

Combined with "partnership" programs whereby local governments pay distribution costs, the packages will complete a year-long CARE plan to help feed more than 35,000,000 persons in 33 countries of Africa, Asia, Europe and Latin America.

Long after the holidays have passed, the gifts will be used in ways to nourish the hungry, give them health and energy to help themselves to a better life.

Every package is a personal expression of brotherhood, presented with the name and address of the donors. No matter what language men speak, America's prayers for Peace on Earth are quickly understood when we give food so others may eat — through our kindness, for the present; by their own efforts, in the years ahead.

All Should Attend Services

December reminds us that except for some special religious holidays — parents still drive their children up to the doors of churches and synagogues, deposit them on the sidewalk, and then head home to indulge in another forty winks or the sports section of the morning paper.

How parents can reason "it's good for them, but not necessary for us," is puzzling when indications are that parents and children who do worship together are happier families and form the basis for a better community.

According to a report by Juvenile Judge Sam Tatum of Nashville, Tennessee — of the 46,000 juvenile cases he tried in Juvenile Court over a period of 25 years, only one family in every 2,700 problem cases attended religious classes or worshipped together as a family.

Just 17 families who took worship seriously were involved in all of the 46,000 trials.

Statistics such as these certainly speak volumes for families who do "worship together each week." Seeing that "they" go just isn't enough. Here's one area in which participation by all members is called for.

Show your children the way to a richer, fuller life this week by joining them in worship.

Veterans Should Update Policies On Insurance

A recent lawsuit in which a wife sought her husband's GI insurance which the Veterans Administration paid to his former wife, points up the failure of many veterans to keep their insurance beneficiary listings up to date, Glenn Corbitt, Manager of VA's Northern California Regional Office said today.

The law requires the VA to pay insurance claims to the listed beneficiary. Too often, Corbitt said, the original list of beneficiaries, compiled when the insurance was issued, is sadly out of date.

Death, divorces, marriages and re-marriages are all occasions for possible beneficiary changes. Most common out-of-date listings are those of a mother whose son has since married or of a first wife when a subsequent separation and re-marriage has taken place.

Veterans desiring to bring their beneficiary listing up to date can do so by writing the VA office to which they send their insurance premium payments, being careful to give their full name and insurance policy number as well as the old and new beneficiary listings.

Lafayette Cadet Completes Course

Naval aviation cadet Wesley W. Jewell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cully W. Jewell of Lafayette, has successfully completed the basic jet training course at the Pensacola, Florida naval air station.

During the training he accumulated more than 25 hours of jet flying time while practicing air-to-air gunnery and carrier landing techniques.

Lions Hear Talk Scouts Pay Honor To 7

On De-Salting Water From Sea

Economic problems involving the de-salting of sea water was the subject of a talk presented to the Lafayette Lions Club last week and the speaker was Professor Everett Howe of the University of California.

Speaking at the Lafayette Restaurant, Howe described the efforts now underway around the world to manufacture usable water from sea water.

Lafayette Lions showed particular interest in Howe's description of the three water taps in a Coalinga, California household. The taps are labelled "hot," "cold" and "good," Howe said.

One hundred and fifty years of service in the Boy Scouts of America is represented by the seven men recognized by the Mt. Diablo Council in the presentation of the Silver Beaver awards at the annual recognition dinner at the Richmond Memorial Auditorium Saturday.

The awards, made by Edwin S. Pillsbury, past president of the Council, a Silver Beaver winner himself and a member of the National Council went to the following:

Russell H. Blanchard, executive board member and a sea scout commander;

Judge Dave W. Calfee, who started his scouting career in 1934;

Superior Court Judge Norman Gregg, youth worker and influential scout;

E. Morton Schaffran, president of Mt. Diablo Council since December, 1961;

W. D. "Dill" Thomas, a member of two different troops and an Eagle Scout;

Joseph Viera, Jr., a member of the executive board since May 1962; and Clayton Wannamaker, advisor of Explorer Post 365, Concord.

Assets Shown In College Audit Report

An audit report covering the financial operations of the Contra Costa Junior College District for the fiscal year ended last June 30 has been filed with the district governing board.

The report discloses that the district now has $11,529,967.28 in fixed assets, and a bonding capacity of $48,788,669.

Harold DeFraga, associate superintendent of county schools, who has been serving the district as a consultant and advisor, said the firm of certified public accountants that made it, Griffin & Christiansen of Martinez, should be commended for an "excellent" job.

This type of audit, he said, has been long overdue. It deals with accounting records and procedures, with emphasis on the operation of auxiliary funds involving bookstore operations, student loans, associated student groups, club funds, and the like.

Smoking Dangers Shown In Cancer Society Film

The American Cancer Society, which has heretofore directed its educational efforts on the health hazards of cigarette smoking primarily towards teenagers, is now widening its approach to include a younger age group according to Mrs. John Selley of the society's Contra Costa Branch.

The means is a new 15-minute, color-sound filmstrip itled "I'll Choose the High Road", which is now available for showing in Contra Costa County elementary schools, Mrs. Selley, public education chairman, said.

"STUDIES HAVE shown that by ages 13-14 many youngsters have already started to smoke," Mrs. Selley revealed. "One Southern California survey turned up two fifth graders who were pack-a-day smokers."

"These are exceptions of course. Most children don't pick up the smoking habit until they are well into their teens. But when children are around 12 years old, they are forming some pretty strong ideas about the world around them and their role in it. We feel it is important to reach them at this impressionable age," Mrs. Selley commented.

The film strip takes the position that a high road of opportunity and challenge is open to all youngsters who want to realize their full potential by being physically, mentally and socially fit. It demonstrates the relationship between smoking, cancer and several other diseases.

Some random quotes: "THE RELATIONSHIP between smoking and several diseases — especially lung cancer — have only recently been discovered. Grownups started smoking when they didn't know how harmful it might be."

"You might start to smoke because a foolish leader does. Sometimes your gang, like a flock of sheep, follows its leader into foolish or even dangerous adventures."

"One quality of social fitness is to be you and still be a member of the gang. Do you know when to put on the brakes?"

"THE CHOICE is yours. What will it be?"

"Take-home leaflets easily understood by pupils of the younger age level, and illustrated by cartoons, are available for distribution when the new film is loaned for school and Boy Scout, Girl Scout or other group showings," Mrs. Selley said. "Arrangements can be made by the cancer society to have a physician present at the showings of the new filmstrip, to answer questions from the audience," the education chairman added.

How to Eliminate Silverware Stains

Every hostess wants her silverware and her silver serving pieces to sparkle and gleam for entertaining. When done the right way, this chore can be pleasant and rewarding and you can see piece after piece change from tarnished gray to face-reflecting silver. You'll find Kleenex towels helpful for polishing in all the corners and around intricate designs. After the tarnish has been removed, wash the pieces in soap and water.

In washing silverware, separate table silver from cutlery to avoid scratching. Soak in soapy, warm water but do not allow ivory or bone handles to lie in the water. Rub well and rinse with hot water. Lay silver on Kleenex towels to avoid scratching, then wipe.

Don't Accept Second Best Buying Garden Tools

If you have ardent gardeners in the family you're in luck. They're so easy to please at Christmas — almost any gardening gift will make them happy.

A warning. Don't accept the second best in gardening equipment or plants. The difference in price between the best and the not-so-good usually is quite small but, particularly in the matter of plants, the difference is tremendous over the years. A first-class rose, for example, will outperform any others about two-to-one.

GARDENING GLOVES and shears make an excellent gift for male or female gardeners. Get the leather-faced kind of glove so there'll be no trouble in handling thorny plants. As for shears, for $10 or less you can get the best of hand pruners. Most professionals use those with the blade that goes by the "anvil" (the thick part) although some people like the kind with the flat anvil, the blade cutting down on the middle of it.

Whichever kind you elect to get, be sure it is a good steel that will hold its cutting edge. The really good ones will last for years and be a joy to any gardener. Those of a lesser grade lose their edge and make a gardener fume.

BOOKS FOR gardeners are becoming so numerous it is impossible to list them. Here in California a sound gift is one of the specially written garden books for western gardeners (or vegetable book if he's wild to get those wonderfully tasty, home-grown vegetables).

When you start rummaging through the bookshelves of your nursery or book store, however, be sure the book applies to our part of the country and is not just a handsome collection of photos. For this reason you will be wise to look for books at nurseries run by knowledgeable members of the California Association of Nurserymen.

PILLOW TALK

For those who would like to lean back and close their eyes for a private serenade, musical pillow talk is the answer.

A foam-rubber pillow that houses two 4-inch speakers is part of a new portable phonograph. The curved pillow may be used on bed or chair or as a free-standing speaker.

Watch Children And The Elderly

At Christmastime be particularly watchful of small children and elderly persons — they rank high in fire fatalities, says the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

The highest death rate by fire is among persons 65 years of age and older. Infants under five years of age are fires' next most frequent victims, according to studies.

If you have elderly people or small children in your household, make sure that a responsible adult is always present who would know how to get them out of the house if fire should occur.

Headquarters for the Leica system

from Leitz TRINOVID BINOCULARS

Creators of the world-famous Leica camera have perfected a new prism system that dramatically reduces binocular size and weight. It's the first truly significant binocular advancement in fifty years. The Trinovid 6x24 panoramic 636-foot-wide viewing field at 1000 yards is an amazing 40% larger than conventional models. The 8x32 and even the 10x40 are more compact than conventional glasses of much lower power. And all Trinovid models have fast-action central focusing, are hermetically sealed, dustproof and absolutely waterproof.

TRADE UP TO THE FINEST: LEICA

Ready for better pictures? Whether you're deeply involved in photography or take "just snapshots"— let us show you a Leica. You may have a friend who owns a Leica; he's probably told you that it never disappoints. A Leica owner never gets into a photographic situation where his camera can't deliver.
Bring in your old camera; let's discuss a trade-in for a new Leica M-3 or Leica M-2, with automatic features that make photography easier than ever. Once you own a Leica, you'll never want to trade again.

Make Pompons To Add Color To Your Party

Are you looking for a new decoration idea for your next big party? Here's one that will add color and warmth to your party room.
Make pompons of facial tissues in large, medium and small sizes.
Pompons are easy to make.
Here's how: take six tissues of the color you wish. Fold the tissues in half and fringe with scissors, making cuts one-fourth inch apart up to one inch from the top.

Shake the fringe out and wrap around the end of a thin dowel stick. Fasten with heavy thread or fine wire — and you'll have a giant tissue pompon.
For a gay dance, use all white Kleenex tissues to make pompons that look like snowballs. Or you might try a combination of pink, yellow and aqua tissues.

Hang the pompons from the ceiling and tie in clusters for corner decorations.
Besides decorating your room and being wonderful conversation - starters, they make ideal favors for each guest when the party's over.

RISKY
Rain can make driving more risky than snow, a National Safety Council study has shown. The changes that occur during snow are apparent to most drivers, but the hazards of rain are not generally recognized as dangerous, and many drivers make for reduced visibility and traction.

Deadline for Scholarships At UC Nears

Deadline for local students applying for scholarships as entering undergraduate students on the University of California's Berkeley campus is February 15, R. K. Humphries, chairman of the California Alumni Scholarship Committee for the Diablo area, reminded today.

No application submitted after that date will be considered. Parents' confidential statements must be filed by February 1, he added.

ONLY ONE application for undergraduate scholarship need be submitted to the office of the Committee on Undergraduate Scholarships and Honors, 2620 Bancroft Way Berkeley 4, California. Such applications will be considered for Regents and University Scholarships and for California Alumni Scholarships. Full instructions are included on the application form.

Students planning to attend a campus other than Berkeley, should submit scholarship applications to the campus of their choice.

Receipt of a scholarship does not constitute admission to the University, nor does it assure housing, Humphries cautioned. Application for admission should be made to the campus Admissions Officer, and information about living accommodations should be obtained from the Office of the Housing Superintendent.

NEW CHAIN

A new automobile chain styled after the familiar tank truck is now available for those who fear getting stuck in winter snow or mud.

The hardened steel cleats are easy to install and designed to improve the traction provided by the conventional round chains.

Make House Guests' Stay Safe, Happy

If you're having house guests for the holidays, make sure their visit is a fire-safe one, says the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Fire gives no warning when it strikes, and a few simple precautions can make sure your family and friends safely escape if fire does occur, the National Board points out. HERE ARE a few tips for holiday safety:

1. Your family should have an escape plan worked out in advance and your guests should be told about it. Make sure your family, guests, and the baby sitter if you employ one, know two alternate routes of escape from the house or apartment. Then, if fire breaks out, an alternate escape route may be used if the other is blocked.
2. If you have guests who smoke, keep plenty of large ashtrays in guest rooms, also in every other room throughout the house.
3. Caution all persons not to smoke close to the Christmas tree.

Motor Club Has Bail Bond Card

A bail bond certificate in the traffic arrest field is being brought to the attention of police officers country-wide. It's the Allstate Motor Club bail bond card, which is offered in lieu of cash bail up to $20. It guarantees the appearance of the club member in any court of competent jurisdiction.

The police have a written guarantee that the Allstate Motor Club will pay any forfeiture levied (not in excess of $200) should the motorist fail to appear. All public of-icers are authorized and requested to accept the certificate in lieu of cash bail.

The bail bond certificate applies except where the motorist is charged with manslaughter or driving under the influence of alcohol or narcotics.

REDUCE SPEED

Careful driving calls for reduced speed on residential streets, particularly near parked cars. The National Safety Council says most child traffic accidents occur when a youngster runs into the street from behind a parked car.

Evergreens Add Winter Beauty

Evergreens have a steady, stately beauty. Some flower, some give uniform background the year round. But there's another kind of beauty altogether provided by the bare branches of deciduous trees and shrubs.

Two beauties that are particularly noteworthy for the graceful arching of their branches come winter are the Weigela and the Beauty Bush. They both are uncommonly beautiful (a shrub doesn't get the name of Beauty Bush for its nude limbs alone!).

when in flower, too, but we're concerned with their extra value as winter "forms". The Weigela is a shrub that reaches 6 feet in height but spreads slightly more than that. Its long, slender branches arch and are of a warm, brownish hue with cork-like bark. If planted where one can see the sky through the branches, the effect is bewitching.

The short, bell-shaped flowers fairly smother the branches in February or March just as the leaves appear and last for a month or six weeks.

for a month or six weeks.

To get full enjoyment from the Weigela cut the blossoming branches that are on old wood. Cut them way down near the base. You get flowers and your Weigela gets more shapely.

Beauty Bush is bare from December to February, when its slightly longer but equally arching branches show their beauty very much as do those of the Weigela. Its blooms, (that come in tremendous masses) start in May and continue into June. The Beauty Bush grows to about 8 feet and its branches spread about the same amount, so give it room to express its beauty, bare or clothed with bloom.

Insurance Agent's Efforts Lauded By CHP Captain

Captain Edward M. Jelich of the California Highway Patrol has lauded the Contra Costa County Insurance Agents Association for its sponsorship of the "Moral Emphasis" safe driving program which began last week-end and which will continue through the holidays.

"Each person's moral responsibility to drive lawfully, carefully and with consideration for the rights of others will be expressed in many different ways during this program," Jelich said.

"Ministers of most of the churches in the Concord area will preach on this subject during the coming month. It will also be the theme of many talks before service clubs and other civic groups," he said.

"THE CHRISTMAS and New Years holiday period always is marred by needless traffic accidents. Law enforcement efforts cannot alone prevent these tragedies. Only the determined efforts of every person who drives a motor vehicle to avoid the violations and other driving mistakes that cause accidents will keep the toll of death and injury to a minimum.

"The efforts of the insurance agents' association and all who are working with them in the moral emphasis program will, I believe, help us all to remember our obligations and responsibilities as motor vehicle drivers," Jelich concluded.

THE MAGIC OF CHRISTMAS IS HERE

Yes, it's Christmas! You hear it in the singing of joyous carols, in the glad ringing of bells. You see it in smiling faces, gaily wrapped packages and glowing decorations. Most of all, you feel it in your heart, and so do we, as we send season's greetings and warmest thanks to you, our most appreciated customers and friends.

Holiday Fare for Dieters Outlined

It's not easy for dieters to find the holiday fare, but it piece de resistance with most may not be necessary families on Christmas and adding certain adjust- other festive meals. With ments are made, according to slight modifications this same the nutrition committee of bird can be served up for the Contra Costa County diet in a tasty manner and Heart Association. enjoyed by all. Take the matter of se- For this purpose the most lection, preparation and serv-suitable fowl is a small hen turkey. Rub with oil and seasonings. Place apple and celery chunks in the cavity and prepare the dressing separately. Baste the turkey with oil and drippings. Variations in the procedure for preparing the dressing eliminate butter and substitute oil. For flavor use the broth from the cooked giblets and neck to moisten. Brown the onions and celery in oil. For variations in the standard recipe add nuts, raisins and apples or giblets.

Gravy can be practically fat-free and made just before serving dinner by placing drippings in a separate pan adding ice cubes. The fat will harden quickly on the surface and can be removed before proceeding as usual. There is a wide choice of before-meal and between-meal appetizers on the low fat menu. Tasty dips can be tag cheese or yogurt blended with dry onion soup mix or drained clams.

For cheese balls, drain low fat cottage cheese, then shape into balls and roll in dried chipped beef or chopped parsley. Or, marinate cooked vegetables such as artichoke hearts, garbanzo beans, cauliflower, celery hearts, green beans, or carrots in Italian dressing or oil and vinegar with your favorite seasonings added. Tasty and low in fat.

The ingenious housewife will think of many substitutions based on these suggestions so the dieter can enjoy good food and still stay on his diet.

... That's where you find "the gift that keeps on giving"—United States Savings Bonds. No need for second thoughts when you give Bonds for Christmas. You're always sure you've selected exactly the right gift for everyone on your list.

There are many reasons why. For one thing, Series E Bonds grow in value. Every $3 returns $4, at maturity—more if Bonds are held longer. And Bond dollars help keep our country strong while this personal nest egg is building up.

So why don't you join the Christmas shoppers at the Savings Bonds window this year?

If you have any questions about U. S. Savings Bonds for investment, income or gifts, your bank or other issuing agent will be glad to help you.

Ask to have your gift Bonds in the special presentation envelope. No charge.

Dramatize Gifts with Foil Wrap

Time for final wrap-up, time for house decorating and tree do-dads. So here are some suggestions utilizing a year-round kitchen helper, inexpensive, glistening aluminum foil for packaging and for beautiful holiday decorations. Foil can dramatize important gifts, make modest ones look impressive. Gaily colored and seasonal designs are now available.

Aluminum foil is fine "as is" but it takes on new interest when crushed, pleated or hammered for package wrappings and for decorations. For soft effect, simply crush foil by crumpling very gently first in one direction and then in the other.

For pleating, press together using medium hot iron, two sheets of foil with waxed paper between. This gives strength, smoothness and body to foil and makes it easy to use. For pearly effect, press one sheet of foil with waxed paper. Arrange in any width pleat desired.

For hammered effect, use eraser end of pencil, pressing and twisting gently into foil surface. Good for edging and for design-making.

More Foil Fancies
Cut out foil initials, monograms, silhouettes and paste them on.

Roll a bottle of anything or a lipstick in a piece of foil bring ends together at top, press firmly, cut ends into fringed tassel.

Make pet little pouches for candy, envelopes for hankies, nylons or whatever.

Spread foil under a lace tablecloth. It will catch the glimmer of candlelight while protecting your table.

Cut cardboard stars, angels, Santas or other traditional shapes and cover both sides with foil — hang on tree or window decoration or use as window shade pulls.

Arrange gay table, buffet or entrance hall piece by wrapping fruit and nuts in foil of assorted colors; use this fruit alone or in combination with real or imitation fruit and/or some shrubby greens from the yard or some pyroantha or holly.

Spread shimmering foil under tree. Non-flammable, it molds perfectly into hills, caves. Add greens, artificial snow, figurines. It protects floor, reflects tree lights beautifully.
